Skyjack Cash Return Sought

Request Made To Algerians

ALGIERS (AP) — U.S. officials were hopeful today that the Algerian government would return the $1 million paid to the hijacker of a Delta Airlines jetliner. The DCS and its crew spent Tuesday night in Barcelona, Spain, on their way back to the United States, and the Algerian government was holding the hijackers and the money.

Allan Davis, acting head of the U.S. diplomatic mission in Algiers, said Algerian officials have not yet replied to the American request for return of the money but added, "We are encouraged by what has happened in the past."

Two months ago, the Algerian government seized and returned $500,000 collected in the hijacking of a U.S. airliner. Since then, it has indicated it dislikes the idea that it is running a hijackers' haven.

In New York, Bernice Jones of the Black Panthers said the Panthers' delegation in Algiers had telephoned that the government had decided to return the ransom money to the United States and was considering also returning the three men and two women who took over the plane on a flight from Detroit to Miami Monday. The hijackers also had three children with them.

Miss Jones said the hijackers were connected with the Black Liberation Army and the Black Panthers in Algiers were pressuring the Algerian government to give them asylum.

The Black Liberation Army is described by New York police as a loose nationwide organization of black urban terrorists not formally connected with the Panthers.

The State Department asked the Algerian government to return the ransom and either prosecute the hijackers or return them. The request was made via the Guinea Embassy, since Washington and Algiers have no formal diplomatic relations.

Muskie Choice For Veep?

WASHINGTON (AP) — George McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate, says he will announce within a few days his choice of a running-mate to replace Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri.

McGovern reportedly is checking a half-dozen or so names with other leading Democrats to determine the acceptability—and background—of those under consideration.

Apparently, on the basis of hints and speculation, the most likely replacement for Eagleton is Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

The 1968 Democratic vice-presidential candidate is generally acceptable to all elements of the party, and he is already well known nationally. Muskie, a Catholic and a New Englander, would provide balance for McGovern, a Midwestern Methodist.

Idaho's Sen. Frank Church, a Protestant, seemed to throw cold water on speculation he might receive the nod. He recommended McGovern find someone who would add more variety to the ticket.

Besides Muskie and Church, speculation has centered on former Democratic National Committee Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien, Boston Mayor Kevin White and R. Sargent Shriver, one-time Peace Corps director.

And the name of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy—who says he doesn't want the job—continues to crop up.

Eagleton turned out to be too controversial following disclosure last week that he had been hospitalized for mental depression in 1960, 1964 and 1966 stemming from nervous exhaustion and fatigue.

His withdrawal from the Democratic ticket Monday night following a nearly two-hour meeting with McGovern made him the first major-party candidate for the vice presidency ever to accept and then give up the nomination.

The Eagleton controversy prompted some complaints that a new method of selecting vice-presidential candidates should be devised. McGovern operated under the system used by both Republicans and Democrats in which the new presidential nominee usually huddles in his convention hotel with advisers and selects someone within 24 hours of his own nomination.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew defended that process Tuesday night. Speaking in Washington, he said "it's right the way it is. There's no reason why the presidential candidate cannot have time to deliberate. He's got the whole year in which he is running to deliberate on his vice president."

In a related development,

McGovern had hoped to get free national-television air time for a Tuesday night broadcast that his office described only as "a major address on the vice presidency."

But when the networks learned McGovern did not plan to announce a new choice on the air, they withdrew the offer of free time.

A spokesman at NBC in Washington said that without the announcement of a new McGovern choice, the program would have been considered more like a free advertisement than a news event. Consequently, he said, the networks might have had to give

Demos Set Aug. 9 Debate On Veep

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newly expanded Democratic National Committee is expected to start debating Aug. 9 the selection of a successor to Sen. Thomas Eagleton as vice-presidential nominee.

Credentials Committee members appointed Tuesday have been alerted to meet as early as Sunday night or Monday to clear the way for the full committee to convene in midweek said Helen Rees of Brookline, Mass., a member of the Credentials panel.

The national committee may start its deliberations even before all the states have named their delegates. Only a majority vote is needed to replace Eagleton.

DNC Chairman Jean Westwood didn't rule out this possibility in a news conference Tuesday but she said "most Democrats realize the urgency of this question and most are moving to select their members as soon as possible."

The task of selecting a running-mate for presidential nominee George McGovern fell to the committee after Eagleton withdrew Monday night. He and McGovern agreed that debate over Eagleton's medical history was overriding discussion of campaign issues.

McGovern is expected to recommend Eagleton's successor within the next few days, but the ultimate decision is up to the committee.

The DNC staff continued calling state party officials late Tuesday to urge them to speed up the selection process, if possible.

At that time, 18 states still had to choose at least one more committee delegate, and New York had to select eight, Pennsylvania five, Illinois seven, and Michigan and Texas three more each.

In Illinois, the process may have been slowed when a judge said Tuesday he would block the state's convention delegation from being seated at the state caucus to elect representatives to the national committee.

Judge Daniel Covelli, who issued an injunction against conventions seats for the challenge delegates led by Chicago Alderman William Singer only to have it overturned in federal court, said he would issue the new injunction today. Covelli said the caucus seats should go to Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's rival delegation.

Challenges have shaped up in Wisconsin, New Jersey and Ohio as well as Illinois, and a total of eight contests are expected to develop.

But the big argument within the DNC hierarchy centers around who can vote when the committee convenes.

The Democratic convention voted to enlarge the DNC from 110 to 303 members and adopted a voting system copied after the electoral college. But specific guidelines governing which committee members can vote in such a case as the unprecedented withdrawal of a vice presidential candidate have not yet been shaped.

Council Meeting Is Brief; One Ordinance Approved

Circleville City Council completed a brief agenda in 30 minutes Tuesday and then met with a representative of Prindle and Patrick, architects, to hear the proposed city-county justice complex explained.

The business agenda included second readings of the new salary schedule ordinances for both police and fire departments and the passage of an ordinance to certify $70 to the county auditor to be placed on the 1973 tax bill of Mrs. J. E. Metcalf, Columbus.

The money is to pay for mowing weeds on lots eight and 49 in Garden City that are owned by Mrs. Metcalf.

Councilman David Crawford noted that the city does not mow weeds on private property unless a number of complaints are received from neighboring property owners. The cost of mowing includes the administrative cost of the health and service departments as well as the actual cost of mowing.

ALTHOUGH no opposition was voiced to the proposed salary schedule before council, both members of the police and fire departments are not satisfied with them as presently written. The new ordinances are designed to provide more salary benefits for the members who have the most longevity. But newer members say the proposed schedules will delay pay increases they have coming under the old schedule.

Safety Director Ed Ebert has pointed out that nobody will take a pay cut if the new schedule is enacted. The ordinances will have their final reading and come up for a vote at the August 15 meeting of Council.

At the close of last night's meeting, Mayor Frank Barnhill appealed to Council to provide more money for the operation of the city. He said that if more funds are not provided, the city will be in serious financial trouble by the last quarter of the year.

A letter from O. Charles Hosterman, attorney representing a developer for a tract of land in the city's northeast, was read. It concerned council's refusal to rezone the tract of land at the intersection of Atwater Ave. and Morris Road so multiple dwelling housing units could be built.

Hosterman said there is no legal reason for not rezoning the property.

Another letter from Columbia Gas of Ohio was read concerning an increase in gas rates within the city pursuant to the utility's fuel cost clause included in a city ordinance regulating the cost of gas.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Chief of Police Robert Temple reported his department is making numerous arrests with its radar. "This is not a revenue source but a means of trying to slow traffic," Temple said. The radar has been in operation on East Main, North Court and Nicholas Drive. It will be in operation on West High and East Mound this week, the chief said. He noted that if anybody felt there was a speeding problem on the street they lived on, to call the department and the radar would be put on the street.

Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe reported he had completed inspection of the fire hydrants for the summer.

Firemen Given Dollar By Bird

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Syracuse firemen, wrangling with city officials for more than a year over lack of a labor contract, found this week that pay raises can come from unexpected sources.

Firemen William Walsh and John Rosmarino said they were chatting in front of Engine Co. 8's firehouse when a small sparrow landed five feet from them, dropped a neatly folded $1 bill from its beak and flew off.

The two firefighters, who split the bird-borne buck, said they didn't know what to make of the unexpected gift. "The hardest part was trying to get the other firemen to believe it," said Walsh.

Probe Nixon Campaign Finances

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government auditors have begun an examination of President Nixon's campaign finances to determine whether the Republicans had anything to do with a break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters.

The General Accounting Office announced Tuesday that it will conduct a full audit of the finances of the Committee for Re-election of the President. The committee has pledged to cooperate, said Philip S. Hughes, director of the GAO's office of federal elections.

Hughes said he ordered the audit because of possible links between committee financing and the break-in and alleged bugging of Democratic headquarters on June 17.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., wrote the congressional watchdog agency earlier Tuesday requesting the probe after that a $25,000 check, apparently intended for the Nixon campaign, ended up in the bank account of one of the men charged in the break-in.

The disclosure indicated that "for the first time the bugging incident was related to the campaign finance law," Hughes said.

The audit is the first undertaken by the GAO after it gained such power under a new campaign spending law that took effect April 7.

Defense Opens Case Today For Bremer

Psychiatrists Say Defendant Sane, But Schizophrenic

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — A defense psychiatrist described Arthur H. Bremer today as a schizophrenic whose decision to assassinate either President Nixon or Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace temporarily resolved the personal conflicts which had been with him most of his life.

Dr. Eugene B. Brody, a Baltimore psychiatrist whose credentials took 30 minutes to recite in Circuit Court, said he was convinced Bremer was suffering from schizophrenia on May 15, the day Wallace and three other persons were wounded in a volley of gunfire at a Laurel, Md. shopping center parking lot during a campaign rally.

"Mr. Bremer, in my opinion, lacked totally the capacity to appreciate the criminality of his conduct," Brody told a jury of six men and six women as the defense opened its case in Bremer's trial on state charges.

The 21-year-old former janitor and busboy from Milwaukee, Wis., has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to 17 counts stemming from the May 15 shootings.

Before closing its case Tuesday, the prosecution sought to prove Bremer's sanity.

Brody, who interviewed Bremer at a state hospital in July, went through a lengthy analysis of his mental condition based on his conversations with Bremer's father and mother and his reading of a personal diary taken from Bremer's car.

The psychiatrist said the diary indicated Bremer made up his mind in early March to assassinate either Nixon or Wallace.

Laird Eyes Successor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has repeated his intention to resign on Jan. 20, and believes Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and former Secretary of the Treasury John Connally would be qualified to succeed him.

Laird left the impression during a talk with newsmen in St. Louis Monday night that he personally favors Rockefeller. He mentioned Kenneth Rush, a deputy defense secretary, as a third possibility.

He told newsmen he was not "advocating any particular candidate" and said he has not discussed the choice of a successor with President Nixon.

Laird said he agreed to take the job for only one four-year term. Asked if he would stay on if Nixon asked him, he said, "In order to serve the country best I should have a few months off, but that would not be very practical."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Republican Sens. William Saxbe and Robert Taft Jr. voted with the majority Tuesday as the Senate rejected 59-33 a military-weapons bill amendment by Sen. George McGovern to cut future Pentagon spending by $4 billion.

Pickaway County Agricultural secretary Lynn McCoy, was released from the hospital noon Tuesday. And her first stop was the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. Miss McCoy has orders from the doc to take it easy but that's not likely with all the activity at the fair.

Forrest Short, Pickaway County's senior statesman of the harness racing sport, has a young and promising protégé in Buck Weaver, a 19-year-old horseman. Forrest has a wealth of experience, having been associated with horses all his life. His father was one of the largest horse dealers in Ohio. Although he drove all his life, it was not until he had finished 12 years as county auditor back in 1917 that he turned to the sport as a fulltime occupation.

Weaver and Short both drove to second place finishes in their respective races Tuesday.

Commenting on the sparse crowd around the track Tuesday, Short noted there has never been a great deal of interest in the fair races.

Speed Secretary John Fissell explained the reason for holding the program in one day was to allow for a rain date.

Last year $900 had to be returned to the state when one day was rained out.

The track was fast and in near perfect shape. Robert Steele, general manager of Scioto Downs who served as presiding judge, said it was the best he had ever seen it. The judges' stand was freshly painted. The hub rail was repaired and painted for the fair and the old light poles around the track had been removed.

Hershel Martin and Harlow Arledge were largely responsible for the condition of the track surface. Scioto Downs provided the water wagon.

Race Secretary John Fissell still wants to try a day of racing during Pumpkin Show week. The county fair circuit has come to an end by that time and he believes there would be plenty of horses available.

Yesterday's races did not fill too well. In recent years there has been a multitude of entries and "it caught up with us this year," Fissell explained.

Federal Slowness Hampers Ohio Interstates

By ROBERT E. MILLER

Associated Press Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's interstate highway program won't be completed until about 1980, three years later than last predicted.

But Highway Director J. Phillip Richley says the delay is in Washington—not Columbus.

And he says he still believes Ohio will be the first major state to finish, and among the first half-dozen of all the states. Oklahoma now is 92 per cent complete and Ohio 90 per cent, with Maryland, Arkansas, Nebraska, and Oregon in between in that order.

"The remaining miles in Ohio are going to be the toughest," Richley says, explaining that they involve connections in several downtown metropolitan areas. "We're talking about construction in the most densely populated areas of the state," he adds.

Ohio now has 1,409 of its 1,570 interstate miles open to traffic after about 15 years of work. Sixty-five more miles are under construction, and 96 remain to be put under contract. All but 20 miles of right-of-way have been acquired.

The cost so far has been $3.25 billion, or about $2.4 million a mile, on the average. The remaining miles will cost $553 million, or an average of about $5.7 million a mile.

Four projects remain in Cleveland, two in Cincinnati, and one each at Columbus, Youngstown, Dayton, and Bridgeport. The biggest unfinished stretch is 21.27 miles of I-480 in Cleveland.

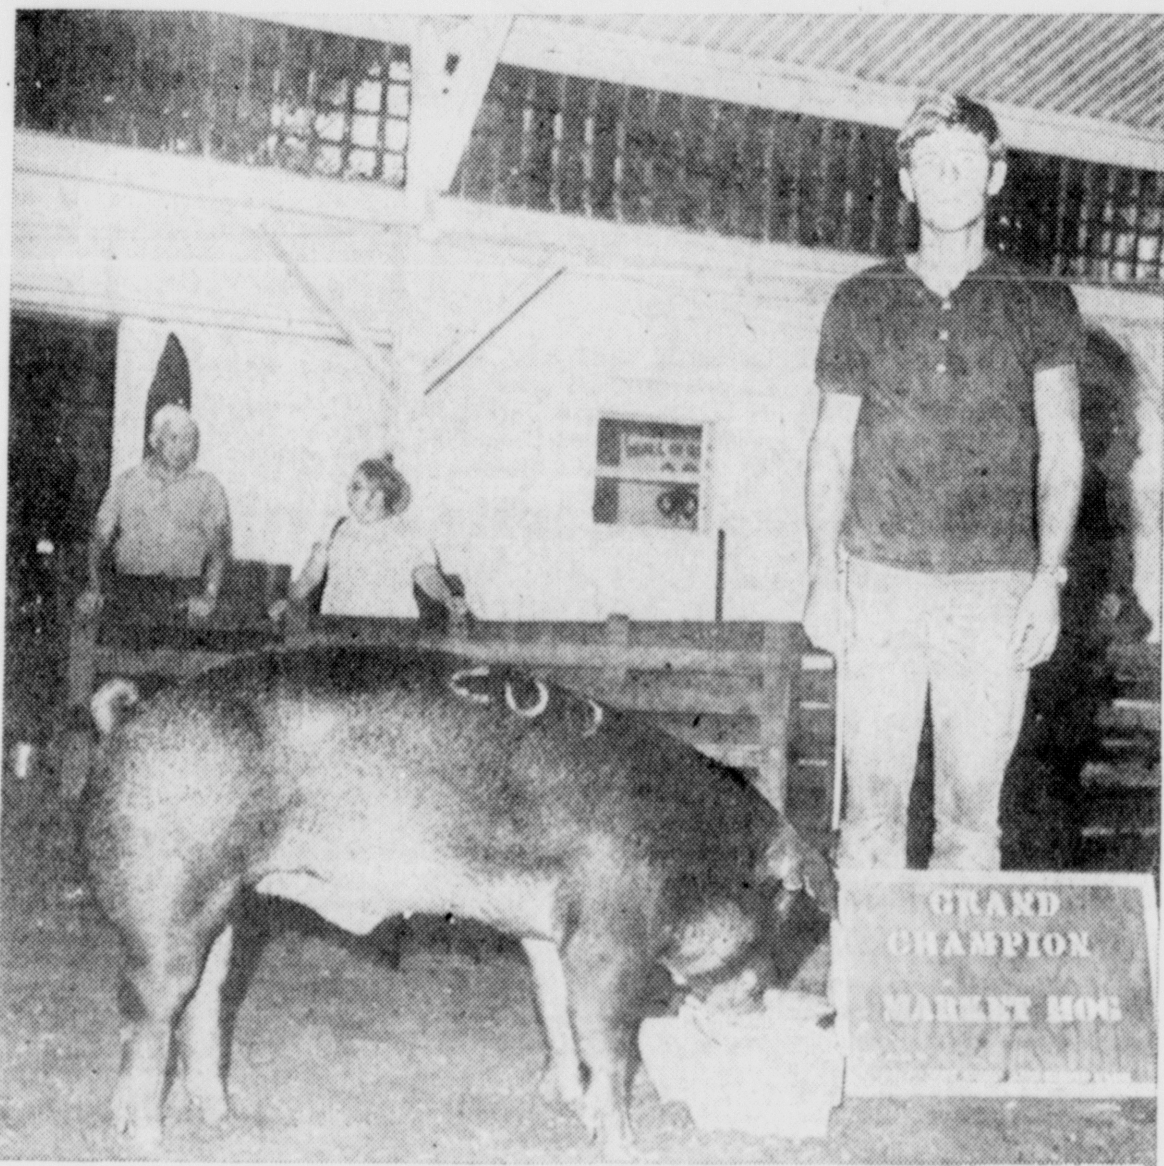

The others are 20.08 miles of I-675 in Dayton, 11.8 miles of I-90 in Cleveland, 10.4 miles of I-290 in Cleveland, 6.6 miles of I-470 in Bridgeport, 5.22 miles of

I-70 in Columbus, 5.09 miles of I-680 in Youngstown, .99 miles of I-77 in Cleveland, and .66 miles of I-471 in Cincinnati.

It had been expected that Ohio and many other states would finish the interstate system about the middle of 1977. The National Highway Act of 1970 gave the states until mid-1975 to get all remaining projects under contract.

Federal Slowness Hampers Ohio Interstates

By ROBERT E. MILLER Associated Press Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's interstate highway program won't be completed until about 1980, three years later than last predicted.

But Highway Director J. Phillip Richley says the delay is in Washington—not Columbus.

And he says he still believes Ohio will be the first major state to finish, and among the first half-dozen of all the states.

Oklahoma now is 92 per cent complete and Ohio 90 per cent, with Maryland, Arkansas, Nebraska, and Oregon in between in that order.

"The remaining miles in Ohio are going to be the toughest," Richley says, explaining that they involve connections in several downtown metropolitan areas. "We're talking about construction in the most densely populated areas of the state," he adds.

Ohio now has 1,409 of its 1,570 interstate miles open to traffic after about 15 years of work. Sixty-five more miles are under construction, and 96 remain to be put under contract. All but 20 miles of right-of-way have been acquired.

The cost so far has been $3.25 billion, or about $2.4 million a mile, on the average. The remaining miles will cost $555 million, or an average of about $5.7 million a mile.

Four projects remain in Cleveland, two in Cincinnati, and one each at Columbus, Youngstown, Dayton, and Bridgeport. The biggest unfinished stretch is 21.27 miles of I-480 in Cleveland.

The others are 20.08 miles of I-675 in Dayton, 11.8 miles of I-90 in Cleveland, 10.4 miles of I-290 in Cleveland, 6.6 miles of I-470 in Bridgeport, 5.22 miles of 1-70 in Columbus, 5.09 miles of I-680 in Youngstown, .59 miles of I-77 in Cleveland, and .68 miles of I-471 in Cincinnati.

It had been expected that Ohio and many other states would finish the interstate system about the middle of 1977. The National Highway Act of 1970 gave the states until mid-1975 to get all remaining projects under contract.

Skyjack Cash Return Sought

Request Made To Algerians

ALGIERS (AP) — U.S. officials were hopeful today that the Algerian government would return the $1 million paid to the hijacker of a Delta Airlines jetliner. The DCS and its crew spent Tuesday night in Barcelona, Spain, on their way back to the United States, and the Algerian government was holding the hijackers and the money.

Allan Davis, acting head of the U.S. diplomatic mission in Algiers, said Algerian officials have not yet replied to the American request for return of the money but added, "We are encouraged by what has happened in the past."

Two months ago, the Algerian government seized and returned $500,000 collected in the hijacking of a U.S. airliner. Since then, it has indicated it dislikes the idea that it is running a hijackers' haven.

In New York, Bernice Jones of the Black Panthers said the Panthers' delegation in Algiers had telephoned that the government had decided to return the ransom money to the United States and was considering also returning the three men and two women who took over the plane on a flight from Detroit to Miami Monday. The hijackers also had three children with them.

Miss Jones said the hijackers were connected with the Black Liberation Army and the Black Panthers in Algiers were pressuring the Algerian government to give them asylum.

The Black Liberation Army is described by New York police as a loose nationwide organization of black urban terrorists not formally connected with the Panthers.

The State Department asked the Algerian government to return the ransom and either prosecute the hijackers or return them. The request was made via the Guinea Embassy, since Washington and Algiers have no formal diplomatic relations.

Cruze Rips Hovey Misuse Of Figures

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Chester T. Cruze, R-3 Cincinnati, says Ohio Finance Director Harold Hovey misused figures last week to discredit an effort to repeal the state's personal income tax.

Cruze, a leader in the repeal effort, referred to the release by Hovey of figures showing how new income tax revenues are distributed, and specifically noted the 58.1 per cent of revenues given to primary and secondary education.

Ohio general revenue expenditures for public education jumped from $1.09 billion in 1970-71 to $1.5 billion in the present budget, Cruze said.

He said the hike included funds allocated for parochial aid, monies now held up by the federal courts.

"Subtracting those monies," he said, "only $320 million of the additional monies raised by the income tax went to our public schools, or only 23.8 per cent of the tax increase."

The figures indicate Hovey "is being cute, dishonest or statistically inaccurate," Cruze said. He said "any of the three should cast serious doubts about the desirability of this man to deal in the delicate area of state finance."

Governor Names Wife As Senator

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Elaine Edwards, the wife of Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards, will be sworn in Monday in Washington as the second woman member of the Senate.

Edwards appointed his wife Tuesday as a temporary successor to Sen. Allen Ellender, who died last week at 81 in the midst of a campaign for reelection to a seventh term.

Mrs. Edwards, an attractive 42-year-old mother of four and grandmother of two, will join Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, as the female contingent in the Senate.

Her term, however, will be brief. Edwards said she will resign following the Nov. 7 general election to allow the governor to appoint the man elected, giving him a seniority edge over other new senators who take office in January.

Edwards said the decision to appoint his wife over a large number of political supporters represented an effort to avoid influencing the current Senate campaign.

Mrs. Edwards is a soft-spoken brunette who has devoted most of her energies to home and family rather than politics.

She said she naturally was excited about the appointment, but she quickly added that she had no misgivings about her new role.

"I'm no U.S. Senator, but with the help of Senator (Russell) Long and the Louisiana congressional delegation, I will get along fine," she said.

Man Charged In 2 Wrecks

David Q. Jennings, 32, Route 1, Lockbourne, suffered a severe laceration of his right leg and forehead and forearm abrasions in his second of two auto accidents that occurred in a five minute span early Wednesday morning.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Earl Kuhn charged him with reckless operation of a motor vehicle following his investigation of the double crashes.

Deputy Kuhn said the first accident occurred about 1 a.m. on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road, east of Route 23.

Robert Lee Vincent, 27, Route 1, Ashville, told the deputy that he was driving east on the road when he saw Jennings' car approaching, apparently left of center. Vincent said he drove his car to the right side of the road and stopped to let the approaching Jennings pass.

However, the cars sideswiped. JENNINGS continued to drive west on the road, and Vincent turned his car around to chase him.

Vincent next saw the car after it had collided with a tree on Route 752, west of Route 23, and about two miles from the first accident.

Deputy Kuhn said Jennings' car left the right side of the road for 96 feet before striking the tree and inflicting heavy front-end damage to his car.

Kissinger Back From Paris; No Hint Of Talks Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Kissinger is back from Paris and a renewed effort to break the Vietnam peace talks stalemate.

A White House spokesman said President Nixon's assistant for national security affairs returned Tuesday night from the secret talks with Hanoi Politburo member Le Duc Tho and Xuan Thuy, head of North Vietnam's Paris delegation.

Kissinger, who has made 14 previous trips to the French capital for private talks, relayed a terse report to Nixon before boarding an Air Force jet for the return flight to Washington. He will give the President a more detailed account today at the White House.

North Vietnamese spokesmen in Paris refused to discuss details of the talks.

Kissinger flew to Paris on Monday—four days after Nixon told a news conference "we hope to do everything we can to bring this war to an end" in the three months before the election.

Nixon also said then, "The chance for a negotiated settlement is better now than it has ever been."

But he said end-the-war resolutions in Congress are encouraging Hanoi to stall on productive talks. And, without mentioning names, he implied that Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern's statements on Vietnam are undercutting efforts to negotiate a settlement.

One aim of Kissinger's recent travels—he was in Paris two weeks ago for another round of secret talks—appears to be convincing the North Vietnamese they should talk seriously now rather than waiting the outcome of the November election.

But before the new trip, associates indicated that Kissinger was not optimistic on the chance of progress.

Tuesday's secret meeting was believed to have taken place in a house provided by the French government in the suburbs of Paris. The two sentence announcement by White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said only that Kissinger was in Paris meeting with the two North Vietnamese negotiators and was expected to return to Washington Tuesday night.

Area Chamber Of Commerce Discusses Member Plaques

Discussion was centered on repairs to the Chamber of Commerce sign at the county boundary and the possibility of changing the membership plaque design.

Chamber board members present, just short of a sufficient number to make a quorum, left the matter of plaque design for further study this month. Ideas and examples are to be presented at September's session.

Following a motion introduced at the July meeting, Chamber secretary Jean Ankrom was authorized to send out copies of the new budget adopted last month and the coordinating dues structure for members' examination.

Circleville's Chamber, in order to keep a one-business, one vote policy, has been unable to reap additional benefits which commerce organizations in Washington C.H., London and Chillicothe receive by allowing any business or industry to purchase as many memberships as desired, each membership allowing one vote. Budgets for these areas are as high as $40,000 and none go below $22,000.

Circleville C of C's annual budget as approved last month with a $2,000 increase, is $16,000.

Mrs. Ankrom reported that the office will be closed from noon Wednesday through the remainder of the week while she attends the Annual Conference of Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio in Columbus. She will end her year as committee chairman of that organization.

Eleven participating Chamber industries have exhibits at the county fair, and the Chamber itself put up a twelfth booth showing the county's rank in

Ohio Garnishment Law Superseded

CINCINNATI (AP) — Federal standards on garnishment limits take precedence over Ohio law, which permits as much as 77 per cent of a person's disposable weekly income to be withheld, a U.S. District Court judge has ruled.

Judge David Porter issued the decision Tuesday on a suit filed by the U.S. Secretary of Labor against Hamilton County Municipal Court here and the Hamilton, Ohio, Municipal Court.

Under the national Consumer Credit Protection Act, no more than 25 per cent of a person's disposable weekly income can be held out for payment of debts.

Porter said when state and federal law conflict, the federal standard must prevail.

Cool Cops On Schedule In Cleveland?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland city officials are considering buying air conditioned cars for the police department.

Police Chief Gerald Raedemaker said Tuesday agreement on the matter had been reached by several city officials, including Mayor Ralph Perk and Safety Director James Carney.

Finance Director Andrew Putka was reluctant to discuss the matter, however, and said he would ask for bids both on cars with air conditioning and cars without the built-in cool.

Putka was against it when the idea of buying 385 cars equipped with air conditioning was first brought up this summer. The initial cost per car would be $100 to $200 higher, but Putka reportedly was more concerned about maintenance costs and the image that cool cars might give the city, which is sweating out a financial crisis.

Carney says the increased cost would be negligible and called it, "a small cost item when you consider the increase in efficiency of refreshed policemen."

The mayor is reported to favor air conditioning on grounds it will keep policemen in the cars and out of less desirable air-conditioned locations.

Cincy Fire Routs 35; See Arson

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Fire in a 10-unit apartment building in the Avondale Section of Cincinnati late Tuesday night forced 35 people from their homes.

There were no injuries. Fire officials said they suspected arson.

Firemen evacuated 31 persons from the heavily smoke-filled building, including 10 by ladder. Four residents escaped by leaping from first-floor windows.

Marshal Clinton Girton said heavy smoke was pouring from the building and people were leaning out of windows when he arrived. He sent for two extra fire companies to assist in evacuations.

Girton said the fire started in a storage bin in the basement. He called for the arson squad to investigate.

There was no immediate estimate of loss.

Busing Foes Win Full House Vote On Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Busing foes in the House have won a long-sought chance to vote on a constitutional amendment designed to ban busing for the purpose of desegregating the public schools.

The Rules Committee, by a 3-6 vote Tuesday, took the bill out of a Judiciary Committee pigeonhole where it had been buried for nearly a year and cleared it for House action.

Rules Committee Chairman William Colmer, D-Miss., said he will call it up as soon as possible. That is most likely to be sometime next week.

But although a vote now is assured on legislation that ultimately would stop all busing, antibusing forces are still pressing for action on bills designed merely to limit it.

One of those measures, which would fix guidelines for the courts to follow in desegregation cases, was the agenda of the Education and Labor Committee today.

It would prohibit cross-town busing of elementary school children and severely limit its use in higher grades. Courts would have to rely on other measures, such as redrawing attendance zones, permitting transfers and building new schools, to overcome segregation.

A struggle is shaping up in the committee over efforts to add to the bill a provision authorizing $1.5 billion to upgrade the quality of education in ghetto schools which would be left predominantly black if cross-town busing were prohibited.

President Nixon originally proposed a similar provision without authorizing any new money to carry it out—but it was stricken in a subcommittee. Busing foes argued successfully at that time that the provision would endanger passage of the busing guidelines.

Several other amendments are due to be offered and it is unlikely the committee will complete action on the bill until Thursday.

Still another antibusing bill—Nixon's proposal for a freeze on new court busing orders until next July 1—was left in an uncertain state by Rules Committee refusal to clear it for a House vote along with the constitutional amendment.

The bill, which is also stymied in the Judiciary Committee, was intended by the administration to stabilize the busing situation until Congress could enact permanent legislation to guide the courts.

Now that the Education and Labor Committee is moving on such permanent legislation, the Rules Committee decided to wait, at least until next week, and see whether any freeze will be needed.

But before the new trip, associates indicated that Kissinger was not optimistic on the chance of progress.

Tuesday's secret meeting, was believed to have taken place in a house provided by the French government in the suburbs of Paris. The two sentence announcement by White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said only that Kissinger was in Paris meeting with the two North Vietnamese negotiators and was expected to return to Washington Tuesday night.

Area Chamber Of Commerce Discusses Member Plaques

Discussion was centered on repairs to the Chamber of Commerce sign at the county boundary and the possibility of changing the membership plaque design.

Chamber board members present, just short of a sufficient number to make a quorum, left the matter of plaque design for further study this month. Ideas and examples are to be presented at September's session.

Following a motion introduced at the July meeting, Chamber secretary Jean Ankrom was authorized to send out copies of the new budget adopted last month and the coordinating dues structure for members' examination.

Circleville's Chamber, in order to keep a one-business, one vote policy, has been unable to reap additional benefits which commerce organizations in Washington C.H., London and Chillicothe receive by allowing any business or industry to purchase as many memberships as desired, each membership allowing one vote. Budgets for these areas are as high as $40,000 and none go below $22,000.

Circleville C of C's annual budget as approved last month with a $2,000 increase, is $16,000.

Mrs. Ankrom reported that the office will be closed from noon Wednesday through the remainder of the week while she attends the Annual Conference of Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio in Columbus. She will end her year as committee chairman of that organization.

Eleven participating Chamber industries have exhibits at the county fair, and the Chamber itself put up a twelfth booth showing the county's rank in various agricultural products in the state. Exhibiting industries are Circleville Oil, Columbus Industries, DuPont, J. W. Eshelman and Son, General Electric, Owens Illinois, PPG Industries, Ralston Purina, Reynolds Metals, USS Chemicals.

Cool Cops On Schedule In Cleveland?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland city officials are considering buying air conditioned cars for the police department.

Police Chief Gerald Rademaker said Tuesday agreement on the matter had been reached by several city officials, including Mayor Ralph Perk and Safety Director James Carney.

Finance Director Andrew Putka was reluctant to discuss the matter, however, and said he would ask for bids both on cars with air conditioning and cars without the built-in cool.

Putka was against it when the idea of buying 385 cars equipped with air conditioning was first brought up this summer. The initial cost per car would be $100 to $200 higher, but Putka reportedly was more concerned about maintenance costs and the image that cool cars might give the city, which is sweating out a financial crisis.

Carney says the increased cost would be negligible and called it, "a small cost item when you consider the increase in efficiency of refreshed policemen."

The mayor is reported to favor air conditioning on grounds it will keep policemen in the cars and out of less desirable air-conditioned locations.

He is survived by his mother; seven brothers, Joseph, Leroy, Charles, Brice, all of Circleville; James, Shelbyville, Ind.; Sgt. First Class Clarence Pence Germany; and Alfred, Columbus.

Services will be 2 p.m. Friday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, New Holland, with the Rev. Alonzo Hill officiating. Burial will be in New Holland Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Thursday.

MRS. WILDA DEWEY
Mrs. Wilda Dewey, 85, of 131 S. Pickaway St., died 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in Chillicothe Hospital, Chillicothe.

Her husband, Mr. Ezra Dewey preceded her in death, May 8, 1956.

Survivors include one son, Carl Dewey, Chillicothe; three grandchildren, Tom and Jerry Nafzgar, and Carol Allen.

Services will be 10:30 a.m. Friday at Deffenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Raymond Welch officiating. Burial will be in Darbyville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 4 p.m. Thursday.

There was no immediate estimate of loss.

Postal Anniversary

A year has passed since the United States Post Office was succeeded by the U.S. Postal Service and efforts began to make the cumbersome business of delivering the mail more efficient. For those who expected an instant miracle it has been a disappointing year.

During that period postal rates were increased again with additional increases planned for the future, service has not noticeably improved and the complex is still running a sizeable deficit.

The realist, however, did not expect success to come overnight to a system which for many years had been a burgeoning bureaucracy, a patronage nightmare, and whose managers throughout the system had been chosen largely on the basis of political obedience.

Removing politics from the postal system and replacing it with business-like methods of hiring, promotion and streamlining is one solid accomplishment of the first year. By itself that may not hold down costs or speed the mail, but it will help. Because of the backlog of inertia the new management has to overcome, turning a political football into a business is not a bad start for one year.

Europe's Rocky Trip

Western Europe is going through one of its most trying periods since the end of World War II. Faced with an uncertain American commitment over the long pull, unsure of its own abilities or desires, beset by internal problems of both national and regional origin, and facing a newly expanded Common Market next January, Western Europe's solidarity is being severely tested.

Political instability has descended upon the continent almost like a plague. Britain, France, Italy and West Germany are all going through the throes of monetary, political and policy crises unparalleled in a quarter century.

The puzzling aspect of the common, yet distinctly individual, unrest is that it is flowing almost directionless, like a ship without its rudder. Adding to the uncertainty of the outcome is the monolithic Warsaw Pact combine to the east.

There is strength in Western Europe despite the apparent disarray. What it is now going through may be nothing more than a shakedown cruise preceding a new and united Europe. But it is a voyage which finds some of the captains holding on to the railing for support.

'French Connection' Cut?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Discounting those early statements on marijuana that he has since retracted, Senator George McGovern's attitude toward the drug menace is everything a law-and-order conservative could wish. He would hit hard at the pusher and do everything possible to rehabilitate the addict.

But if the Democratic Presidential nominee hopes to gain much political leverage from his strong anti-drug stand, he may be in for a disappointment. The Nixon Administration, according to Director John E. Ingersoll of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs (BNDD), has managed to put the squeeze on the so-called "French connection" in 1972, preventing "a total of 120,670 pounds of drugs from reaching the shores of the United States which would have an estimated U.S. street value of $892,931,440."

This figure includes the seizures made by the French and other foreign governments working in cooperation with U.S. agents. When seizures within the U.S. are added into the total, the figure for illicit drugs removed by special agents from the market in fiscal 1972 comes to $1.5 billion in so-called street prices.

Talking in terms of the next five years, Mr. Ingersoll exudes an almost incredible optimism. "I can say," he says, "that we will be able to reduce the problem to a tolerable irritant within four or five years, if we continue with the momentum that we have developed within the last year or two. By that I mean that we will have reduced the supply of dangerous drugs and narcotics coming into this country from abroad to probably an irreducible minimum, and then the remainder of the job will be in decreasing the appetites of addicts of whatever drugs are available."

Early in July the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, working with the French, cracked another big heroin lab, the third that has been uncovered and put out of business in France this year. Since only five illicit heroin labs were uncovered in France between 1960 and 1969, this certainly represents progress. While the French traffic in drugs is pushed by many small-scale enterprises which presents a special problem to the police, the cracking of three labs must have checked off a major portion of the exportable heroin. The proof is in the wholesale price of heroin, which has jumped by a third in the past six months.

The French themselves claim they have a model law for drug control. The law of 1970 allows for rehabilitation, particularly of young drug users, but it hits hard at the traffickers. Local pushers, defined as "any person who abets another in the use of drugs either gratuitously or for payment," can get from "two to ten years imprisonment or a fine of $1,000 to $10 million, or both." Penalties may double in the case of repeated offenses.

The severest penalties are reserved for traffickers, including international pushers, who "have imported, exported, produced or manufactured drugs." Here the sentences go from ten to 20 years imprisonment, and a fine ranging from $1,000 to $10 million, with doubled penalties for repeaters. The passports and drivers' licenses of all traffickers are revoked. The French law is much more severe than the American law.

"If the 'French connection' is in process of being cut, and if heroin, in spite of this, still continues to move into the U.S., our Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs will be compelled to admit the existence of that 'other connection,'" the Red Chinese. If poppies that provide opium, the basic source of heroin, are grown in a great arc that extends from Turkey to the so-called Golden Triangle in Burma, Laos, and Thailand, with the Red Chinese province of Yunnan contributing a sizeable tributary stream of opium if Australian studies of the traffic are to be believed.

What the BNDD has done is to put up strong dikes on the Atlantic side. But the dikes do not protect the American GI who succumbs to the drug habit in Southeast Asia, and when he comes home the "Chinese connection" will assuredly follow him to Pacific ports to keep in touch with a profitable clientele. Indeed, Oriental heroin has already reached as far east (the U.S. east) as New York City, if you credit Alfred McCoy, a Yale student who has just completed a study of the drug traffic in Southeast Asia. Mr. McCoy even goes so far as to say that opium from the Golden Triangle has moved in CIA-chartered planes.

We have had complete candor about the "French connection"; why can't we have it about "other connections" at the other end of the globe?

Richardson Rips Welfare Sulkers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Welfare critics who want "all or nothing" reform are jeopardizing chances for any welfare improvements, Elliot Richardson, Secretary of Health Education and Welfare, said Monday.

Richardson was the featured speaker during the second day of the national convention of the Urban League.

Because welfare critics cannot solve all their problems "these people would prefer to sulk in their tents and let nothing be done," he said.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

THURSDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds you able to put your affairs on a much better foundation, so consider how to handle material concerns. Afternoon and evening brings you some confusing condition requiring you to use your best experience and thought to keep from irritating someone you like.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Making collections, paying bills should be first on the agenda in a.m., but later drive with care and zip your lip when you are tempted to criticize others. Get good advice you need from experts. Stop being so belligerent.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make yourself as attractive as possible in a.m., then handle those monetary matters with utmost care. Don't give in to some temptation to go off on a tangent. A persevering attitude wins the game now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 26) Plan the day's activities early so you can push right through without loss of any kind, including time. Sit down with associates in p.m. and discuss how to expand. Give credit where credit is due.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are able to get the help you need from a good friend in a.m. then you can go ahead with the plans you have. Being of assistance to another is wise, too. There is much happiness for you in the evening.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning is the best time to gain the favor of higher-ups, so that you can get busy and do important work later in the day. Evening is then fine for being with friends you like a great deal. Don't lose your temper with anyone.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle those high-minded affairs early, and then gain the backing of influential persons you know. Seek the information and facts you need from some new source and you will get it. Do not waste time with those who gossip.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be very sure you handle all financial accounts and affairs well and quickly today before you look into new interests. Your intuition is good where practical matters are concerned. Follow it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Cooperate more with a partner whose ideas are good and with whom you want to be associated for into the future. Come through with promises you have made. Handle carefully some situation that comes up suddenly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Some new courses of activity is wise to follow now for results difficult for you to get before. Show more enthusiasm for pleasing others. Find right articles of apparel to bring out your particular charm. Make a new personal friend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take the time to plan some amusements early before you get right down to the work at hand. Make sure you do that favor for one who deserves it. Have a more enthusiastic attitude for everything that you have to accomplish.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Stop being so opinionated at home for good results, and be more cooperative with those who dwell with you. Anything that causes inharmonious should be eliminated. Evening is fine for fun.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Morning is a good time to show you are most productive at your work and then enjoy more happiness at home. Plan the future better with associates and family as well. Get their okay.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am the heartbroken mother of a teen-age dope addict. I have given up wondering what we did that was wrong. What I want to know is why the government doesn't give out heroin to addicts.

Wouldn't this at least be an answer to the terrible crimes addicts have to resort to?

Everything we own was stolen by our son to pay for the addiction we were too proud to admit existed.

Mrs. X., Calif.

The complexity of the causes of addiction is limitless. The opinion of experts varies as to the cause of drug addiction in young people.

The sociologist is sure that the ghetto is the "greatest" reason for this calamity.

The psychologist is positive that social rebellion is the underlying cause.

The social worker says that the broken home is responsible.

The educators may accuse the parents of inadequate supervision and discipline.

The police believe that thieving racketeering induces pushers of heroin to expand their operation.

And bewildered parents wonder where they have failed.

Only by modestly acknowledging that no one expert knows all the answers can we hope to consolidate our strength to stem the tide of this mass epidemic.

Many people involved in this problem are putting pressure on the government to hand out heroin to addicts in the hope that it will "at least be answer to the terrible crimes addicts have to resort to."

But the social and political pressure to give heroin addicts the heroin they need is contrary to the thinking of most authorities in the field of drug addiction.

Dr. Vincent P. Dole, of the Rockefeller University in New York, has so thoroughly answered your question that I am going to quote him directly. In a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, he wrote:

(1) "Heroin addicts, given heroin, will require more and more of the drug. They develop increased tolerance of it. If this is not provided, they will return to crime for additional supplies."

(2) "If the addict is allowed to take home all the heroin he wants, he is almost sure to sell a part of his supply. This will produce new addicts faster than legal clinics can remove them from the streets."

(3) "The possibility of rehabilitating the addict will be diminished. The addict will

NEW YORK (AP) — His memory enables man to play God every day.

With this magic power he reincarnates the dead and revives the vanished past.

How near to God this power of memory really is! It is indeed a form of divine salvation that makes it possible for man to be a human and humane species.

Your own memory collection is pretty extensive if you can remember when:

You knew neighbors had bought a new television set when their house went dark at 8 p.m.

In the era of horse-drawn vehicles no street sweeper had any trouble getting natural fertilizers for his backyard organic garden.

In the days when men wore hats, the polite ones would invariably tip them when they met a lady of their acquaintance.

You could win a reputation for being a dude by wearing a 50-cent clip-on bow tie.

The cheapest place to romance a girl was on a 15-cent boatride through the darkened waters of the "Tunnel of Love" in an amusement park. But just about the time she got interested, the ride ended.

When World War I ended, women wept openly, kids went around the neighborhood beating kettles and pots and pans strung around their necks, people set fire to brooms doused in kerosene and staged impromptu torchlight parades, and men went out into their front yards and fired pistols, rifles and shotguns up into the echoing night. No Fourth of July celebration ever came anywhere near equaling it.

You scratched your own and your sweetheart's initials in beach sands for the first time, and felt like crying when the tide came in and washed them away — doing to them what you knew time would do to you and to her.

The first man in a neighborhood to sell his horse and buggy and buy an automobile was regarded as an idiot who didn't know what to do with his money. It was predicted he soon would have to walk wherever he wanted to go.

America's purposes were pure, its air was pure, and most of its rivers ran pure water.

Those were the days — remember?

Sorrow And Relief Mingle Over Eagleton Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading Democrats gave Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton warm commendations as his faltering candidacy flickered out, and some hinted their relief that at least one uncertainty had ended.

"I'm sorry," lamented Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield at Eagleton's announcement Monday night that he is withdrawing as the party's vice-presidential candidate. "But it was a decision that had to be made. I still have every faith, trust and confidence in Tom Eagleton."

The tone was much the same in comments by other party leaders praising the Missouri senator's courage for pulling Majorette camp was a memorable affair for five girls from Logan Elm High School. The group spent a full week on the campus of Rio Grande College with 400 other girls studying drilling and baton twirling. They were instructed in new routines and strutting, twirling, dance and solo tricks.

Logan Elm's five took a first runner-up spot as a group in midweek competition and were rated for "superior" performance during the week they spent, earning a blue ribbon. The dance - twirl routine they selected for competition against 25 other groups was done to the tune, "Running Away," which earned them a trophy.

State Officials Just Keep Spending, Auditor Declares

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Those who are in the authority to spend are just going to go ahead and spend."

That bit of wisdom might go down in the annals of economic history as Lorah's Law on Fiscal Lack of Restraint.

At any rate, it's the conclusion Charles Lorah of Columbus has come to after nearly a third of a century spent auditing public spending in Ohio.

Lorah, 68, retired this week as supervisor of preaudits and voucher examination in the office of state Auditor Joseph Ferguson.

"Through all the administrations—and I mean all the administrations back, you can't pin it on anyone," Lorah said.

Repeal Of Ohio Usury Law Urged By Bank Study Panel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan's Bank Study Commission recommended Monday that Ohio repeal its usury law limiting interest on loans under $100,000 to eight per cent.

The 11-member study commission said the chief effect of usury laws was to channel bank funds into uses not covered by statute.

"Financial institutions, especially in periods of tight money, find themselves unable to serve borrowers in loans markets subject to artificial interest rate ceilings," the report said.

The banking industry tried unsuccessfully in 1969 to get home loans exempted from the limit after, federal loans, by government directive, went to 8.5 per cent.

Ohio bankers told legislators they were unable to compete in the national market. When the interest rate fell back to eight per cent, the arguments died.

The commission, appointed by Gilligan in November, 1971, was headed by Dr. Douglas Austin of the University of Toledo. Members included bankers, state legislators and private citizens.

It also recommended that banks be allowed to establish branches across county and even state lines. It said it would give independent banks the same advantages now held by bank holding companies.

Among other proposals: —Require that all new banks have a minimum capital fund of $500,000. Present law allows banks in communities of less than 25,000 to open with $250,000.

—Allow banks to open with a start-up fund of less than 25 per cent of capital and surplus and use brokers for the sale of capital shares.

—Require all state-chartered banks to insure their deposits. Current law has no such requirements and two state banks do not insure deposits.

—Give small banks limited authority to provide trust services.

State Banking Commissioner Louis Kastelic, who directed said members felt borrowers today are more sophisticated about interest rates and no longer need the protection of state-mandated interest limits.

The group said in its report it felt the recommendations would provide Ohio - chartered banks "with the most modern and most flexible banking laws in the United States."

The commission also recommended that the powers of the superintendent of banks be expanded in liquidations to include recapitalization or reorganization.

Then, said the commission, the superintendent could act in situations that have not yet reached the liquidation stage.

Sorrow And Relief Mingle Over Eagleton Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading Democrats gave Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton warm commendations as his faltering candidacy flickered out, and some hinted their relief that at least one uncertainty had ended.

"I'm sorry," lamented Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield at Eagleton's announcement Monday night that he is withdrawing as the party's vice-presidential candidate. "But it was a decision that had to be made. I still have every faith, trust and confidence in Tom Eagleton."

The tone was much the same in comments by other party leaders praising the Missouri senator's courage for pulling out of the race rather than chancing a campaign focused on personality rather than issues, a prospect presidential nominee George McGovern had feared.

Sentiment was more sharply divided as party leaders assessed the impact of Eagleton's withdrawal on an already-uphill campaign against an incumbent Republican president.

While Democrats in many states were rallying to the party flag, Missouri Democrats were rallying mainly to Eagleton as they had during the past week when his disclosure of psychiatric treatment on three occasions in the early 1960s produced the pressures finally culminating in his resignation.

"I'm extremely proud of my brother," said a disappointed Mark Eagleton, a St. Louis radiologist. "He has shown more guts, candor and courage than most people will show in a lifetime."

"George McGovern couldn't shine Tom Eagleton's shoes," declared Shirley Butters, Missouri's former national committeewoman.

Missouri party chairman, Delton Houtchens, vowed to abandon his campaign on behalf of the presidential ticket.

Other state party leaders responded in a more conciliatory tone.

Comments included:

Eagleton exhibited "raw courage in a time of frustration and turmoil."—Oklahoma Gov. David Hall.

"Eagleton obviously was doing what he felt was best for the nation and the party."—Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan.

"Unfortunately but necessary."—Indiana's national committeeman, Richard Stoner.

"It's a mistake."—Washington state Democratic chairman Neale Chaney.

"Eagleton's withdrawal has opened up a Pandora's box which could deny McGovern the time he had counted on to project his campaign."—Rep. Roman C. Puckinski, an Illinois Democrat running for the Senate.

NEW YORK (AP) — You see it rained Saturday, so Johnny couldn't go out. And most of his friends couldn't play, and he hasn't at age 10 taken to books very much, not counting comics.

So after the 15th time trying to inveigle someone in the family to play rummy with him with no success, he retired to the den and the aging (1956) television set.

Because it was raining, and the lawn could not be mowed, and all of his friends were on vacation, and he didn't have anything good to read, and didn't feel like fixing the broken plug in the bathtub, and didn't feel like looking at the work he'd brought home from the office, his father followed to the den.

Johnny was already watching "The Mummy's Hand," 1940, a small group of archaeologists sets out in search of the tomb of the royal princess Ananka, 90 minutes.

"Any good?" his father asked.

"Don't get too interested in it, Dad, because at noon I'm switching to 'Terror Beneath the Sea,' 1968, science fiction; in an underwater lab, a mad scientist prepares to battle the world, 90 minutes.

"Let's see the television guide, son."

The father leafed through Saturday, casually, "Instead of Terror, son, why don't you watch this old Bela Lugosi movie, 'Bewery at Midnight,' 1942, a social worker tracks a mysterious murderer in the slums, 60 minutes, which will be over in time to see 'Murder With Pictures,' 1936, the crack photographer of a daily newspaper gets mixed up in a case of murder, Gail Patrick, Paul Kelly, 60 minutes, which will give you half an hour for lunch and then you can watch 'The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come?'"

"I've seen them already. Dad. Why do you like all the old ones for anyway? Besides they're nothing much good on this afternoon anyway, so I thought I'd take a nap until dinner, and then if you say it's okay I'd stay up tonight to see 'Planets Against Us,' French, 1961, the United Nations and NASA investigate a man with strange magnetic powers, and then the 'Beast With a Million Eyes,' 1955, a small family living in the desert encounters a creature from another planet plotting to destroy the world."

"Son, why don't you go out and play in the rain?"

After Johnny had gone to sleep that night, his father came back downstairs and watched "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," 1919, German, the screen's first horror classic, impressionist sets, grotesque makeup and stylized acting, a macabre murder story, a terrifying excursion into the psychotic mind. Then because he was too frightened to sleep, he stayed up for "It Conquered the World," 1956, scientist discovers outer space monster from Venus that plans to destroy the earth.

Which is where Johnny found him next morning, bleary eyed, watching a church service and waiting for "Quo Vadis," and "Cleopatra."

"Dad. Why don't you go to bed? You'll be too sleepy to stay up tonight and see 'The Return of Dr. Mabuse,' the malevolent doctor develops a narcotic which turns victims into robots, and 'The Curse of the Werewolf,' a deaf mute servant girl gives birth to a werewolf; and 'The Curse of Frankenstein...'"

"John," his father mumbled. "When does school start again?"

Cynthia Lowry is on vacation.

Ohio Building Authority Accused Of Bad Policy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Building Authority has been accused of bad policy in its handling of work orders on the new state office skyscraper now under construction in downtown Columbus.

Investigators for state Auditor Joseph Ferguson said the three-member OBA hasn't met formally since last November, but monthly work orders amounting to as much as $2.9 million have gone out.

The audit said the work orders were issued by George Busche, the OBA executive director who also was an employee of the Department of Finance until July 22.

The audit also noted that during a pay period when Busche was getting paid for 28 hours of work as an OBA consultant he also was receiving pay for 60 hours of sick leave from his other job.

Busche said he was ill at that time, but still managed to brief the building authority in his consulting role.

The audit suggested the OBA meet as soon as possible to draw up plans for disbursing money to contractors on the 44-story structure.

Busche took exception with the audit, saying there was "nothing wrong whatsoever" with the OBA's operation. He said members had seen no need to call any meetings.

"They get monthly reports and they are kept fully advised at all times as to what is going on," he said. "Our operation is contrary only to what they (the auditor's office) think."

Heavy Rainfall Drenches Many Parts Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Equal treatment for most of the nation meant rain today. The exception was the Far West.

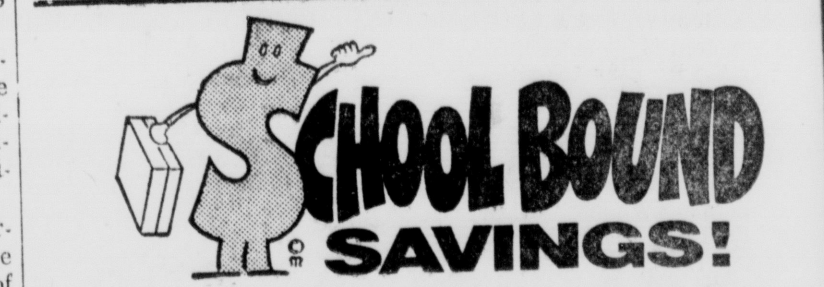

A thunderstorm uprooted trees and damaged farms at Los Nation, Iowa, south of Dubuque. Funnell clouds were sighted near Laramie, Wyo., and in the Corona area near Roswell, N.M.

Heavy showers drenched Pueblo, Colo., with nearly an inch of rain in an hour, and Des Moines, Iowa, was awash for a time in nearly 2 inches. Winds swept through Grand Junction, Colo., at close to 60 miles an hour.

A spokesman for the auditor's office, O. F. Knippenburg, said the report found nothing illegal about OBA procedures, "but underscored what is a bad policy and suggested steps be taken to correct the procedures."

In another audit, Ferguson's office issued a finding at $3,149 against a man who masqueraded as a doctor and headed Molly Stark Hospital in Canton from March 1 to April 18.

The audit stated the man, who has used names of James Wayne Farmer, Wayne Farmer, and Edward Bradley, was not legally entitled to the salary he received because he had falsified his qualifications. The man used the name of Bradley while heading the state hospital.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather story from the National Weather Service:

A warm, humid high pressure system covering most of the eastern United States continued to affect Ohio's weather today, but a cold front approaching from the west threatened increasing shower activity in the state through Thursday. The cloudiness, in addition to bringing showers, was expected to hold temperatures down a little during the day.

By Thursday afternoon the cold front should reach central sections of the state, and bring cooler temperatures to northern counties.

Skies at dawn today were mostly cloudy, with temperatures mostly in the upper 60s. A few scattered showers were reported in the northwest overnight.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Cloudy tonight and Thursday with scattered showers and thundershowers. Cooler north portion Thursday. Lows tonight around 70. Highs Thursday from the upper 70s to mid 80s.

WEST LAKE SHORE, NORTHWEST INLAND — Cloudy tonight and Thursday with showers and thundershowers likely. Cooler Thursday. Lows tonight near 70. Highs Thursday in the upper 70s.

WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL EAST CENTRAL, SOUTH-WEST, SOUTHEAST — Cloudy tonight and Thursday with a chance of showers and thundershowers. Lows tonight around 70. Highs Thursday in the low to mid 80s.

SPIDERS IN SPACE — Officials at NASA have announced that a proposed experiment by Judith Miles, above, 16, of Lexington, Mass., is one of 19 proposed by high school students to be used on the American Skylab station next year. Judy's experiment calls for the use of two spiders on the trip to determine the effect of weightlessness on the spider's web-spinning ability in space. (AP Wirephoto)

'Star-Chamber' Hearing On Hall Petitions Ripped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Even before a hearing was held today on the validity of petitions submitted for an independent presidential ticket, the American Civil Liberties Union was calling it a "star-chamber proceeding."

Benson Wolman, executive director of the Ohio ACLU, said the hearing promised "to have all the earmarks of a star-chamber proceeding designed to prevent Gus Hall and his running mate from getting on the November presidential ballot in Ohio."

Secretary of State Ted Brown called the hearing after some electors complained they did not know what they were signing when presented nominating petitions for Hall, head of the Communist Party U.S.A., and his running mate, Jarvis Tyner.

1,800 Apply For Positions At Lucasville

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A brand-new, multimillion-dollar building complex on a scenic 1,900-acre site just outside a quiet southern Ohio village apparently sounds like a pleasant place to work to many people.

Over 1,800 persons have applied for the 250 positions that are yet to be filled at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility, Ohio's new maximum-security prison that is to open soon.

Wilfred Whealon, superintendent of the new prison, which is commonly called just "Lucasville," noted that early critics of the site had argued it was so far away from cities that no one would want to work there.

The critics "have been proven wrong," Whealon said.

He suggests that many applicants are, in fact, trying to escape the "rat race in the major cities."

About three-fourths of the applicants are from southern and southeastern Ohio, he said, including recent college graduates, recently discharged servicemen and persons who moved elsewhere to find work, but would like to return to the area.

Job openings include 200 security officer posts—another 200 will be filled by transfers from other state institutions—17 teacher positions and five nurse vacancies.

Whealon says he has received 800 applications for the guard openings, 150 for teaching and 20 for nursing. He said there has also been no lack of applicants for skilled positions, including social workers, psychologists and medical technicians.

The opening date of the $32 million prison remains up in the air, dependent upon completion of building, power plant and food service specifications.

School Mandamus
Suit Is Filed

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Martha Logan, of Cridersville, filed a writ of mandamus in 3rd District Court of Appeals Tuesday seeking to force school officials in the Auglaize County village to permit her handicapped son to attend first grade in the fall.

The boy, Jay, 6, was born with an open spine, the mother's attorneys said, and is confined to a wheelchair.

School officials reportedly denied him entrance to first grade because of problems he would have negotiating stairways.

Auto Makers Object
Of California Proposal

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Auto builders would have to pay for the repair of safety-related defects — and furnish a substitute car while the work was being done — under a bill that has gone to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, sponsor of the bill, said Monday that the substitute car would have to be furnished only if repairs take longer than one day.

The width of the Amazon River in Brazil ranges between one and six miles.

Let's Tour Ohio

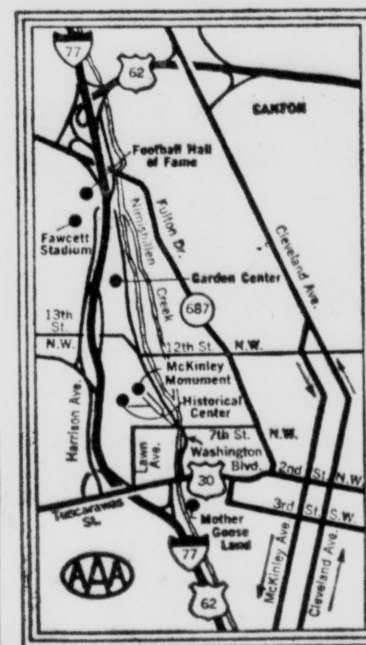

Canton Area Attractions
Include Grid Hall Of Fame

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of short tours of Ohio travel attractions prepared by Columbus Auto Club Travel Department for The Herald.

In addition to its many fine attractions Canton offers the bonus of having them easily accessible.

And whether the interest is history, sports, flowers and gardens or just a lazy stroll through a fine city park system, this tour has it.

Most unique among the attractions is the National Pro Football Hall of Fame, with its football shape. Highlights of professional football history are on display, with mementos of Thorpe, Grange, Rockne and other outstanding players, team pictures, and voice recordings.

A 30-minute film is also shown.

Next to the Hall is Fawcett Stadium, one of the largest high school football fields in the nation, with a capacity of 25,000.

The impressive McKinley Memorial in Westlawn Cemetery honors the 25th U.S. President, who was born in Niles and practiced law in Canton. The domed monument of white granite is situated on a 24-acre plot.

The memorial sarcophagi is housed in the 97-foot high mausoleum. On the steps leading to it is a 10-foot statue of McKinley making his last speech.

West of the McKinley Memorial is the Stark County Historical Center. It has a McKinley Museum among its cultural and educational exhibits. Other features are a planetarium and the Hall of Science and Industry.

The Garden Center is located in Stadium Park, one of a series of parks in which most of the Canton attractions are located. The center offers many beautiful displays inside and in the 18-acre site around it.

Mother Goose Land will be a special treat for children, with some 20 exhibits of fairytale characters, a real steam engine, a stage coach, and 22-foot high concrete whale and playland.

AAA suggests this routing to the tour area: From Circleville go north on US 23 to I 270; least on I 270 to JCT with I 70; east on I 70 to JCT with I 77; north on I 77 to the tour area.

Fischer Fights
To Chess Tie
With Spassky

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer inched toward the world chess title with another draw in a dull ninth game with Soviet champion Boris Spassky Tuesday. The score now is 5½-3½ in the American challenger's favor and the 10th game is scheduled for Thursday.

The ninth game "might actually be considered the so-called 'grandmaster draw,' since neither player made any great change from standard play," said international grandmaster Isaac Kashdan, analyzing the play for The Associated Press.

With a win counting one point and a draw half a point, Fischer as the challenger needs 12½ to take the title while Spassky must score 12 to retain it.

A maximum of 15 games remain to be played, and Fischer can lose one and still win if he draws the other 14. But Spassky must win at least two games and draw the rest to keep his crown. So far he has won only one of the first nine games in play, the first, while Fischer has taken four.

Playing first with the white pieces, Spassky opened Tuesday with his usual pawn to queen four. Fischer responded with knight to kings' bishop three and the game developed into the Tarrasch variation of the queen's gambit.

"By the 14th move, most of the major and minor pieces had been traded off and, two moves later, everything was virtually dead even," said Kashdan.

On the 29th move the two traded pawns, and Fischer proposed a draw. Spassky shook his hand in agreement.

D. H. Baldwin Co.
Has Record Income

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Record three and six months net income and revenues have been reported by the D. H. Baldwin Co., manufacturer of musical instruments and electronics equipment.

The company said Monday it had net income of $4.99 million, or $1.84 per share, for the six months ending June 30, compared with $3.4 million, or $1.21 per share for the same period of 1971.

AGRONOMY DAY VISITOR — Westfall High Vo-Ag teacher Paul Ewing was one of 300 visitors for 1972

Agronomy Day July 27 at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, Wooster. Crambe, a new oil-seed crop with potential for Ohio production, caught the attention of several visitors. From left are Dr. Merle Niehaus, OARDC professor of agronomy; Roger Gwin, of near Big Prairie. Ewing; and Ken Badertscher, Ada.

Overflow Of Baked Goods Indicates

Titles of Champion were awarded to Mrs. Olan Tussing for a cake, Mrs. Marion Jones for the best decorated cake, Mrs. Jack Young for her yeast bread rolls and Mrs. Marabell Drummond for a quick bread.

Gift certificates for the various categories were awarded by Super Duper Market, Burton's Jewelry, Christopher's Don Boutique and The Shoe Place.

Winners of prizes and ribbons in the classes are listed.

THE PEANUTS™ MUSICAL

An outstanding musical play for all the family. Presented by players of OHIO VALLEY SUMMER THEATRE.

Pickaway County Fair

THURSDAY 8 P.M. — GRANDSTAND

AGRONOMY DAY VISITOR — Westfall High Vo-Ag teacher Paul Ewing was one of 300 visitors for 1972 Agronomy Day July 27 at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, Wooster. Crambe, a new oil seed crop with potential for Ohio production, caught the attention of several visitors. From left are Dr. Merle Niehaus, OARDC professor of agronomy; Roger Gwin, of near Big Prairie. Ewing; and Ken Badertscher, Ada.

Fischer Fights To Chess Tie With Spassky

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer inched toward the world chess title with another draw in a dull ninth game with Soviet champion Boris Spassky Tuesday. The score now is 5½-3½ in the American challenger's favor and the 10th game is scheduled for Thursday.

The ninth game "might actually be considered the so-called 'grandmaster draw' since neither player made any great change from standard play," said international grandmaster Isaac Kashdan, analyzing the play for The Associated Press.

With a win counting one point and a draw half a point, Fischer as the challenger needs 12½ to take the title while Spassky must score 12 to retain it.

A maximum of 15 games remain to be played, and Fischer can lose one and still win if he draws the other 14. But Spassky must win at least two games and draw the rest to keep his crown. So far he has won only one of the first nine games in play, the first, while Fischer has taken four.

Playing first with the white pieces, Spassky opened Tuesday with his usual pawn to queen four. Fischer responded with knight to kings' bishop three and the game developed into the Tarrasch variation of the queen's gambit.

"By the 14th move, most of the major and minor pieces had been traded off and, two moves later, everything was virtually dead even," said Kashdan.

On the 29th move the two traded pawns, and Fischer proposed a draw. Spassky shook his hand in agreement.

D. H. Baldwin Co. Has Record Income

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Record three and six months net income and revenues have been reported by the D. H. Baldwin Co., manufacturer of musical instruments and electronics equipment.

The company said Monday it had net income of $4.99 million, or $1.84 per share, for the six months ending June 30, compared with $3.4 million, or $1.21 per share for the same period of 1971.

Let's Tour Ohio

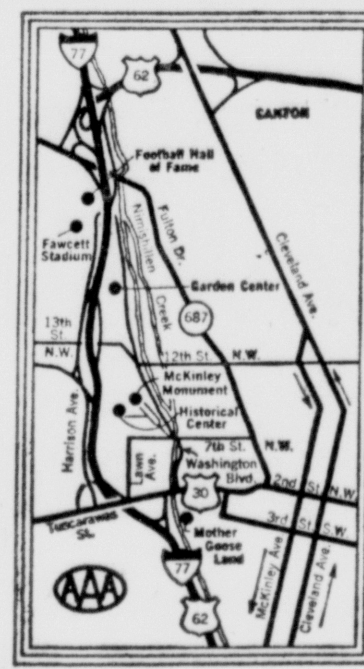

Canton Area Attractions Include Grid Hall Of Fame

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of short tours of Ohio travel attractions prepared by Columbus Auto Club Travel Department for The Herald.

In addition to its many fine attractions Canton offers the bonus of having them easily accessible.

And whether the interest is history, sports, flowers and gardens or just a lazy stroll through a fine city park system, this tour has it.

Most unique among the attractions is the National Pro Football Hall of Fame, with its football shape. Highlights of professional football history are on display, with mementos of Thorpe, Grange, Rockne and other outstanding players, team pictures, and voice recordings.

A 30-minute film is also shown.

Next to the Hall is Fawcett Stadium, one of the largest high school football fields in the nation, with a capacity of 25,000.

The impressive McKinley Memorial in Westlawn Cemetery honors the 25th U.S. President, who was born in Niles and practiced law in Canton. The domed monument of white granite is situated on a 24-acre plot.

The memorial sarcophagi is housed in the 97-foot high mausoleum. On the steps leading to it is a 10-foot statue of McKinley making his last speech.

West of the McKinley Memorial is the Stark County Historical Center. It has a McKinley Museum among its cultural and educational exhibits. Other features are a planetarium and the Hall of Science and Industry.

The Garden Center is located in Stadium Park, one of a series of parks in which most of the Canton attractions are located. The center offers many beautiful displays inside and in the 18-acre site around it.

Mother Goose Land will be a special treat for children, with some 20 exhibits of fairytale characters, a real steam engine, a stage coach, and 22-foot high concrete whale and playland.

AAA suggests this routing to the tour area: From Circleville go north on US 23 to I 270; least on I 270 to JCT with I 70; east on I 70 to JCT with I 77; north on I 77 to the tour area.

School Mandamus Suit Is Filed

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Martha Logan of Cridersville filed a writ of mandamus in 3rd District Court of Appeals Tuesday seeking to force school officials in the Auglaize County village to permit her handicapped son to attend first grade in the fall.

The boy, Jay, 6, was born with an open spine, the mother's attorneys said, and is confined to a wheel chair.

School officials reportedly denied him entrance to first grade because of problems he would have negotiating stair ways.

Auto Makers Object Of California Proposal

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Auto builders would have to pay for the repair of safety-related defects — and furnish a substitute car while the work was being done — under a bill that has gone to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, sponsor of the bill, said Monday that the substitute car would have to be furnished only if repairs take longer than one day.

The width of the Amazon River in Brazil ranges between one and six miles.

Highway Patrol Commends Local Officers' Records

A new campaign promoting an all-out effort by State Highway Patrolmen to bring a halt to auto larceny in Ohio is having an effect here, with 23 vehicles recovered.

Even if these are qualifying "hits" in the program which began this year, allowing patrol officers a red lightning bolt emblem to display on the side of his patrol vehicle for each stolen car case he hands in which the car was apprehended. Nine men stationed here proudly exhibit the distinctive red lightning bolts on their official cars.

Enthusiasm is high among the Ohio posts and among patrolmen to make arrests for stolen vehicles and be a candidate for a top award, the Blue Max, which will be given at the end of each year to the state patrolman who has the greatest number of lightning bolts to his credit. Other honors will be bestowed with the coveted medal.

Two local patrolmen have scored two "hits" each and are on their way to earning the Ace Certificate, presented to any officer making five or more on-the-spot auto theft arrests. These men are Ptl. D. R. Cline and Ptl. R. P. Burkhardt.

THE Ace Certificate, presented by Col. Robert Charamonte, Patrol Superintendent, notes the recipient "qualifies as a Ace in recognition of his alertness and outstanding performance."

Local post commander, Lt. Wayne Henry, indicated that one Columbus patrolman he knew of had four qualifying "hits" to date.

The remaining nine local men have a single lightning bolt credited each one. L. P. Hardesty, C. L. Cotton, T. F. Coon, K. C. Gaul, D. L. Daub, L. L. Swiger and R. L. Daub have all reported one success in their vigilance against auto thievery.

Sgt. Carl Wolfinger said that this program would not end in 1972, but is a continuing drive against this type crime. It has grown to where it annually costs Ohio citizens over $90 million each year in stolen property and increased insurance rates.

Col. Charamonte has targeted all Patrol manpower and computerized tools for this head-on attack on the auto larceny problem, in an effort to make it unsafe to steal cars in Ohio.

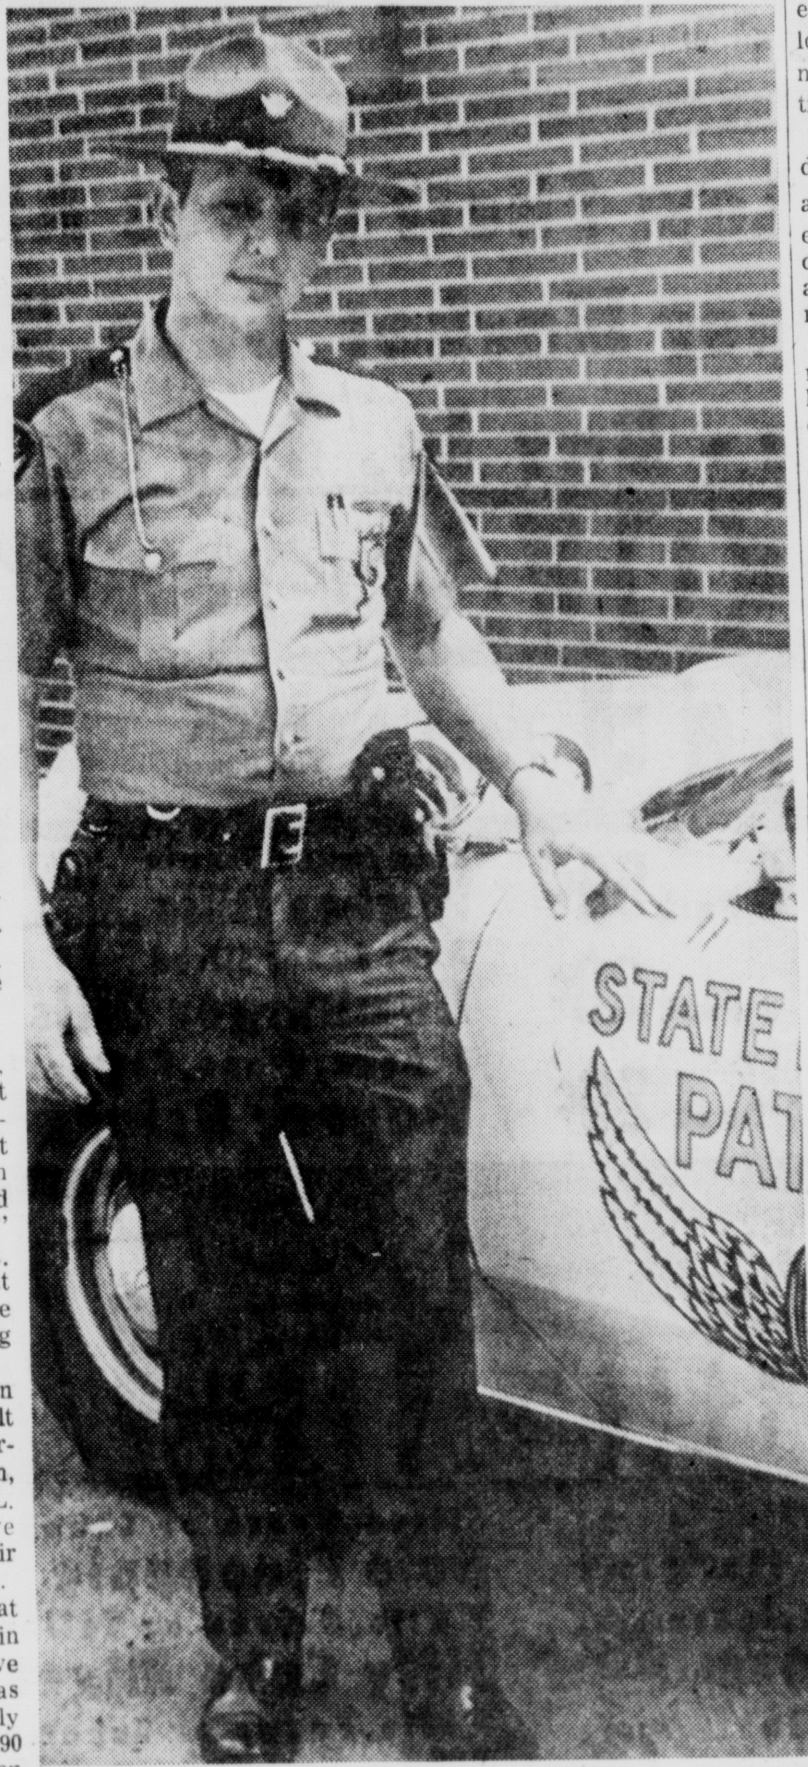

Be forewarned, the Circleville post notes, that there are 1,322 Highway Patrolmen now employed in the State of Ohio who are on the lookout for any stolen vehicle and the person who took it.

Those vehicles found by local patrolmen include a fairly evenly divided number of out-of-state stolen vehicles and local automobiles discovered abandoned along the roadside. With the computerized law enforcement information filed available, a check on a suspicious automobile can result in almost immediate arrest.

It is estimated that throughout Ohio, Patrol officers check over 70,000 vehicles each month. Regardless of the reason for stopping a vehicle on the highway, a check is always run.

Although their encounters with stolen cars do not credit them for a lightning bolt, local patrolmen have made ten recoveries of vehicles which were abandoned by their male or female, adult or youth thief. In these cases, cars alone were recovered by officers Ralston 1, Whitt 1, Hardesty 2, Rigglesman 1, Cline 1, Bennett 1, Lewis 2, Gaul 1.

The Patrol's efforts are making car larceny a bad risk.

TWO BOLTS — Ptl. Dale Cline proudly shows the two lightning bolts he earned for successful recovery of stolen cars and apprehension of the subjects involved. He scored his "hits" in February and March when he stopped two vehicles whose operators aroused his suspicion. Neither vehicle had been reported stolen at that time, but his inquiries for registration and other evidence of ownership turned up the information that both had been taken without the owner's permission. Cline has been with the local Highway Patrol Post since January, 1971.

Exempt Farm Prices Jump, Force Food Costs Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new government report shows that farm prices exempt from price controls continue to dig deeper into consumer pocket-books, particularly at supermarket meat counters.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that average farm prices jumped 1.5 per cent last month to an all-time record, including a new high for beef cattle and a record matching jump for hogs.

Increases also were reported for a number of other items, including eggs, potatoes, milk and onions. Compared with a year ago, prices farmers received in July were 13 per cent higher.

Meat animals, which provide nearly a third of the average family diet, rose 3 per cent from June.

Beef cattle edged past the previous record set in June, and hogs equaled the high mark of February 1970.

Last week the Agriculture Department reported that retail food costs rose 0.9 per cent in June with beef and pork strong factors in that increase. But those figures did not reflect the latest movement of farm prices.

Nixon administration price officials have insisted more meat is on its way to consumer's tables and that the price situation soon will ease.

A USDA report shows the number of cattle being fattened as of July 1 was up 14 per cent from a year earlier. Those animals, administration officials say, will soon be sold and help dampen prices.

But another report showed that in June meat output by packing houses actually was down 4 per cent from a year earlier, led by a 9 per cent cut-back for pork. Beef was reported at the same level of June last year.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

(Q) My house burned down and I hired an appraiser to establish the amount of casualty loss on my home and furnishings. Are his fees deductible?

(A) Yes. If you itemize deductions on your return, appraisal fees incurred in establishing the amount of a casualty loss are deductible as an expense incurred in determining your tax liability.

(Q) I sold my house several months ago, but I've been having trouble finding a new one. How much time do I have to acquire a new house in order to qualify for postponement of tax on the sale of my old one?

(A) The gain you realize on the sale or exchange of your personal residence is not taxed at the time of sale if within one year before or after the sale you buy and occupy another residence, the cost of which equals or exceeds the "adjusted sales price" of the old residence.

If you are constructing a new residence, construction must begin before the sale of your old residence or within one year after. The residence must be occupied within 18 months after the sale.

The running of the one-year of 18-month period after the sale of your old residence is suspended while you serve on extended active duty in the Armed Forces. The suspension applies only if your service begins before the end of the one-year of 18-month period. The length of this suspension plus the initial period cannot extend for more than four years after you sold your residence unless you spent time on active duty in a combat zone.

(Q) My employer reimburses me for business travel. Does this reimbursement have to be reported on the tax return?

(A) Reimbursements and allowances for expenses you pay or incur for travel in connection with your employment must be included in your income tax return unless:

(1) You are required to, and do, make an accounting for such expenses to your employer;

(2) You do not deduct such expenses on your return; and

(3) The sum of such expenses equals the total amount of reimbursements and allowances.

If you include the allowance or reimbursement in income, you may deduct your allowable expenses to the extent of the allowance or reimbursement.

(Q) I know that in order to claim my son as a dependent, I must furnish more than half of his total support for the year. Is everything I spend for him considered as total support furnished by me?

(A) No. Generally, total support includes expenditures for providing food, shelter, clothing, education, medical and dental care, recreation, transportation, and similar necessities. However, certain items are specifically excluded from total support. Some of these are life insurance premiums, the purchase of an automobile, Federal, State or local income tax payments, Social Security tax expenditures and funeral expenses.

Most Miners Back On Job After Fatal Blacksville Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most mines in United Mine Workers Union District 31 were reported working today after sporadic picketing idled some 1,500 men Monday in a continuation of the work stoppage that began with the Blacksville No. 1 mine fire ten days ago.

Meanwhile, Arnold Miller, reformist candidate for the presidency of the UMW, announced at a Charleston news conference Monday that Ronnie Statler, president of the Union Local at Blacksville, would join his campaign staff as a full-time organizer.

Pickets on the afternoon shift Monday closed down two Marion County mines, the Joanne Mine at Rachel and Consolidation Coal Co.'s No. 20 mine at Four States, after the men had worked on the midnight and morning shifts. Consol's No. 93 mine at Jordan was closed and the miners met late Monday to discuss an undetermined dispute.

The mines in Monongalia County, with the exception of Consol's Osage mine, were all reported working Monday.

The walkouts began following the Blacksville No. 1 fire, which entombed nine men, and brought safety issues to the forefront in District 31.

Miller accused Consol, owner of the burning Blacksville mine of "corporate crime" adding that the company's record "of continually flaunting the law borders on criminal negligence."

In announcing Statler's full-time position, Miller hailed the young Mannington miner as "typical of the new breed of coal miner . . . fighting to see the UMW's top leadership replaced with men who aren't afraid to stand up to the companies."

Saying he had tried unsuccessfully five times after the Blacksville disaster to telephone UMW President W.A. "Tony" Boyle, Statler maintained, "I've been given the run-around" by the union.

Miller pledged to provide full-time safety committee in each mine if he is elected head of the UMW over Boyle in the court-ordered December election.

Miller said the responsibility of informing the miners about safety laws and their rights "rests with the union."

He added that election of him and the slate of Miners for Democracy candidates running with him would produce a "union leadership that in going to see that coal is mined safely or not at all."

Deposit Box Bandits Missed Big Haul

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say the gentlemanly bandits who rifled five safe deposit boxes at the Plaza Hotel escaped with an estimated $50,000 in jewelry — but missed a much bigger payoff through a hitch in their timing.

The boxes were rented to jewelry firms and were filled with hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of gems during a jewelers' exhibition here last week. But most of the items were removed when the show ended Friday.

OPINIONATED — Miss America, Laurel Lea Schaefer, says she's met so many different people this year that she's learned how to listen to opinions that aren't the same as her own. Laurie, who'll crown a successor in September, says she's more flexible now.

Legal Pot Nixed

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's Health Minister says the government won't legalize possession of marijuana and hashish for personal use but it is taking steps to reduce the penalties.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

(Q) My house burned down and I hired an appraiser to establish the amount of casualty loss on my home and furnishings. Are his fees deductible?

(A) Yes. If you itemize deductions on your return, appraisal fees incurred in establishing the amount of a casualty loss are deductible as an expense incurred in determining your tax liability.

(Q) I sold my house several months ago, but I've been having trouble finding a new one. How much time do I have to acquire a new house in order to qualify for postponement of tax on the sale of my old one?

(A) The gain you realize on the sale or exchange of your personal residence is not taxed at the time of sale if within one year before or after the sale you buy and occupy another residence, the cost of which equals or exceeds the "adjusted sales price" of the old residence.

If you are constructing a new residence, construction must begin before the sale of your old residence or within one year after. The residence must be occupied within 18 months after the sale.

The running of the one-year of 18-month period after the sale of your old residence is suspended while you serve on extended active duty in the Armed Forces. The suspension applies only if your service begins before the end of the one-year of 18-month period. The length of this suspension plus the initial period cannot extend for more than four years after you sold your residence unless you spent time on active duty in a combat zone.

(Q) My employer reimburses me for business travel. Does this reimbursement have to be reported on the tax return?

(A) Reimbursements and allowances for expenses you pay or incur for travel in connection with your employment must be included in your income tax return unless:

(1) You are required to, and do, make an accounting for such expenses to your employer;

(2) You do not deduct such expenses on your return; and

(3) The sum of such expenses equals the total amount of reimbursements and allowances.

If you include the allowance or reimbursement in income, you may deduct your allowable expenses to the extent of the allowance or reimbursement.

(Q) I know that in order to claim my son as a dependent, I must furnish more than half of his total support for the year. Is everything I spend for him considered as total support furnished by me?

(A) No. Generally, total support includes expenditures for providing food, shelter, clothing, education, medical and dental care, recreation, transportation, and similar necessities. However, certain items are specifically excluded from total support. Some of these are life insurance premiums, the purchase of an automobile, Federal, State or local income tax payments, Social Security tax expenditures and funeral expenses.

Most Miners Back On Job After Fatal Blacksville Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most mines in United Mine Workers Union District 31 were reported working today after sporadic picketing idled some 1,500 men Monday in a continuation of the work stoppage that began with the Blacksville No. 1 mine fire ten days ago.

Meanwhile, Arnold Miller, reformist candidate for the presidency of the UMW, announced at a Charleston news conference Monday that Ronnie Statler, president of the union local at Blacksville, would join his campaign staff as a full-time organizer.

Pickets on the afternoon shift Monday closed down two Marion County mines, the Joanne Mine at Rachel and Consolidation Coal Co.'s No. 20 mine at Four States, after the men had worked on the midnight and morning shifts. Consol's No. 93 mine at Jordan was closed and the miners met late Monday to discuss an undetermined dispute.

The mines in Monongalia County, with the exception of Consol's Osage mine, were all reported working Monday.

The walkouts began following the Blacksville No. 1 fire, which entombed nine men, and brought safety issues to the forefront in District 31.

Miller accused Consol, owner of the burning Blacksville mine

of "corporate crime" adding that the company's record "of continually flaunting the law borders on criminal negligence."

In announcing Statler's full-time position, Miller hailed the young Mannington miner as "typical of the new breed of coal miner . . . fighting to see the UMW's top leadership replaced with men who aren't afraid to stand up to the companies."

Saying he had tried unsuccessfully five times after the Blacksville disaster to telephone UMW President W.A. "Tony" Boyle, Statler maintained, "I've been given the run-around" by the union.

Miller pledged to provide full-time safety committeemen in each mine if he is elected head of the UMW over Boyle in the court-ordered December election.

Miller said the responsibility of informing the miners about safety laws and their rights "rests with the union."

He added that election of him and the slate of Miners for Democracy candidates running with him would produce a "union leadership that in going to see that coal is mined safely or not at all."

Deposit Box Bandits Missed Big Haul

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say the gentlemanly bandits who rifled five safe deposit boxes at the Plaza Hotel escaped with an estimated $50,000 in jewelry — but missed a much bigger payoff through a hitch in their timing.

The boxes were rented to jewelry firms and were filled with hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of gems during a jewelers' exhibition here last week. But most of the items were removed when the show ended Friday.

Dock Walkout
Brings British
Fruit Crisis

LONDON (AP) — The British dock strike began nibbling at the nation's supplies of fresh fruit Tuesday.

With the stoppage by 42,000 longshoremen entering its second week and no settlement in sight, merchants said there may be no bananas in the stores by the end of the week.

Dealers in the Covent Garden market said they expected supplies of apples, oranges, lemons, peaches and plums to run out by Thursday or soon afterward.

Meat supplies were not yet affected seriously, although New Zealand lamb increased slightly in price.

It was feared that great amounts of perishables would rot in the harbors. Cargoes of 600 ships made idle by the strike included 60,000 crates of citrus fruit, mainly oranges, 11,000 tons of grapes, 7,000 tons of bananas and 600 tons of Australian apples.

Prime Minister Edward Heath called his Cabinet into session today to consider the timing of a declaration of national emergency. It was not thought to be imminent as essential food supplies were still sufficient. But it was believed that if there was no sign within a week of the strike ending, an emergency would be proclaimed so the army could be used to unload food ships.

The port employers and union leaders met Monday but decided not to improve on the job security and severance pay recommendations the longshoremen rejected last Thursday when they converted their wildcat walkout into an official strike. A statement said the joint management-labor committee would try to convince the dockers that the package offered them was a fair answer to the threat of containerization. But it appeared that the strike would continue for the rest of the week, at least.

Patrick of Columbus were Sunday dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Riley.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and son Harold, Miss Laura Long and Mr. Tommy Hill of Columbus were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donohoe and sons Roger and Robin of near Washington C.H. The occasion celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Donohoe.

ternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch.

Auto Finance Firms Hit By Lawsuit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Lawsuits asking damages totaling $18 million for alleged violations of the federal Truth in Lending Act were filed in U.S. District Court in Cleveland Monday against the credit companies of the three major auto manufacturers.

The class-action suits also ask individual penalties for all persons who financed cars from the General Motors Acceptance Corp., the Ford Motor Credit Co., and the Chrysler Credit Corp. since July 31, 1971.

Such penalties, if the court should assess them, could amount to more millions of dollars. The Truth in Lending Act provides penalties of $100 to $1,000.

None of the companies would comment without seeing the petitions. However, a GMAC spokesman said his firm had violated no laws.

The suits were filed by attorneys William G. Meckler and Gerald A. Messerman on behalf of three Cleveland area men. They allege that contracts used by the finance companies do not disclose that the auto dealers get a 2 per cent fee on financing each car. The complaints contend that the 2 per cent, computed on the amount financed, is a finders' fee and therefore should be disclosed under provisions of the federal act.

The disclosures are "essential to enable...customers to accurately and intelligently determine the cost of credit and to shop for credit in an informed manner," the suits declared.

Charge Attorney With Complicity In Baby Sale

MIAMI (AP)—A Miami Beach attorney accused of being a member of a "three-state adoption black market" ring has been arrested and charged with seven counts of buying and selling children, police said today.

Walter B. Leibowitz was arrested Monday and the State Attorney's Office said the investigation involved persons in Florida, New York and New Jersey.

Assistant State Atty. Douglas Williams said Leibowitz was alleged to have conspired with Sonia Chernin of New Jersey and Martin Ginsberg, a Brooklyn, N.Y., attorney, to sell a baby to a New Jersey couple for $5,500.

Auto Finance Firms Hit By Lawsuit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Lawsuits asking damages totaling $18 million for alleged violations of the federal Truth in Lending Act were filed in U.S. District Court in Cleveland Monday against the credit companies of the three major auto manufacturers.

The class-action suits also ask individual penalties for all persons who financed cars from the General Motors Acceptance Corp., the Ford Motor Credit Co., and the Chrysler Credit Corp. since July 31, 1971.

Such penalties, if the court should assess them, could amount to more millions of dollars. The Truth in Lending Act provides penalties of $100 to $1,000.

None of the companies would comment without seeing the petitions. However, a GMAC spokesman said his firm had violated no laws.

The suits were filed by attorneys William G. Meckler and Gerald A. Messersman on behalf of three Cleveland area men. They allege that contracts used by the finance companies do not disclose that the auto dealers get a 2 per cent fee on financing each car. The complaints contend that the 2 per cent, computed on the amount financed, is a finders' fee and therefore should be disclosed under provisions of the federal act.

The disclosures are "essential to enable customers to accurately and intelligently determine the cost of credit and to shop for credit in an informed manner," the suits declared.

Charge Attorney With Complicity In Baby Sale

MIAMI (AP)—A Miami Beach attorney accused of being a member of a "three-state adoption black market" ring has been arrested and charged with seven counts of buying and selling children, police said today.

Walter B. Leibowitz was arrested Monday and the State Attorney's Office said the investigation involved persons in Florida, New York and New Jersey.

Assistant State Atty. Douglas Williams said Leibowitz was alleged to have conspired with Sonia Chernin of New Jersey and Martin Ginsberg, a Brooklyn, N.Y., attorney, to sell a baby to a New Jersey couple for $5,500.

Winners Listed In O-I Contest

Top local winners in the anti-litter, beautification and recycling contest for Boy and Girl Scout units were announced today by the Owens-Illinois, Circleville plant.

Boy Scout Troop Unit No. 39 Richard Dale, Ohio, and Cub Scout Pack Unit No. 48 of Jackson, Ohio, were named the local winners. Both scout units will receive $25 and become eligible to compete for a national award up to $500. Herb McCoy is the leader of Boy Scout Troop No. 39, and Robert Langley is the leader of Cub Scout Unit Pack No. 48.

National winners in each of the seven scout classifications — Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and Girl Scout Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes, and Seniors — will receive $250, and the grand national winner will receive an additional $250.

In total, more than $7,000 in local and national prizes are being offered in the nationwide environmental contest. National winners will be selected by a screening committee at the corporation's headquarters in Toledo, Ohio. National winners will be announced in September.

According to Dean Logan, Plant Manager, 18 scout units participated in the local contest, and nearly 1,300 units throughout the United States entered the contest.

Logan said the anti-litter beautification accomplishments of the local winners were judged the most outstanding on the basis of significance, effectiveness, group effort, and uniqueness — as described in a special written report submitted by each local scout unit.

Both Scout Troops — unit No. 39 and Cub Scout Pack No. 48 — pursued several community cleanup projects that included the removal of trash from scenic roadways, general community clean-up, and aid to many local citizens in removing rubbish. Long hours and hard work donated by scouts, leaders, and volunteers made the campaign a success.

Atom Plant Site Work Given OK

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has given three Ohio power companies permission to continue site preparation for a proposed nuclear power station in Clermont County.

The plant, to be located near the town of Moscow on the Ohio River across from the Kentucky shore, is projected for initial use in the summer of 1977.

Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., Dayton Power and Light and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. already have invested $27.2 million on site preparation, according to testimony presented at a recent AEC hearing here.

Construction was halted last year because of regulations calling for review of effects the plant would have on the environment.

That review is expected to be completed by the AEC this fall after an environmental hearing for which no date has been set.

The utilities have contended further delays in site preparation would delay opening of the proposed $330 million William Zimmer power station.

In allowing site preparation to continue, the AEC said it has found the principal environmental impact of such preparation already has occurred. Continuation of such activities, it said, would not cause significant additional impact on the environment.

More than 130,000 square miles, or about 53 per cent, of Alberta is forested.

U.S. Navy Rapidly Losing Ground To Russia

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Navy, which has outbuilt the U.S. Navy at a rate of 2 to 1 in recent years, is reported on the verge of a new surge in warship construction.

This is a trend that senior U.S. admirals say is running against the United States in the struggle for naval supremacy, which parallels Soviet advances in ground forces and missile numbers.

The missile race is continuing, despite the new agreement to limit strategic arms. The emphasis will shift to increased numbers of warheads and improved methods of delivery. On the ground, this country has conceded the Soviets a wide lead in combat forces by cutting the U.S. Army to its smallest size in a generation.

Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., the Navy's chief, warns that "unless we continue a dedicated and determined naval modernization program, expanding Soviet naval capabilities could, in the not too distant future, put the Soviet Union in a position to disrupt our use of the seas."

Critics dispute such grim forecasts, accusing the Navy of trying to scare Congress and the country into accepting bigger Navy budgets.

"The Pentagon buildup of the Soviet Navy is a strange but well known technique," said Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who is leading forces bent on blunting the Navy's bid for about $3.6 billion in new shipbuilding money.

Proxmire claims the U.S. Navy is far superior to Russia's and will stay that way under current building programs.

The U.S. Navy's concern has had some support from the outside.

Raymond V. B. Blackman,

editor of the authoritative British publication Jane's Fighting Ships, wrote last July that "the situation for the U.S. Navy is serious."

"By any standards, the Soviet fleet now represents the supernavy of a superpower," Blackman said.

According to the latest U.S. Navy estimates, Russia is operating 568 major surface warships and submarines while the United States has 378 in its active fleet.

Both navies have been retiring older ships but the Russians are credited with building 89 new war vessels since 1967 while the United States was constructing 42.

This constructing gap has contributed to the U.S. Navy's obsolescence problem. Its ships average 16 years of age while the Soviet average is only nine years. Older ships generally are slower, their armament and other equipment less sophisticated.

During the past five years, the Russians have sent about 10 new classes of major surface combat ships and submarines to sea.

And the pace of Soviet naval modernization appears to be accelerating. This year alone, U.S. intelligence has spotted three new classes of Russian destroyer, frigate and cruiser.

Cost increases have hardened even hawkish senators and congressmen against the Navy's pleas for more shipbuilding money.

The price of a new destroyer is around $90 million. The bill for a new attack submarine adds up to about $220 million. The cost figures that really stagger Congress is the $1-billion estimate for a fourth nuclear-powered aircraft carrier.

In their defense, Navy admirals recall that they were appealing for modern ships years ago when prices were much lower but that the Pentagon's civilian leaders made them wait.

When he was secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara forced the Navy in the 1960s to accept a new oil-burning carrier instead of a nuclear-propelled ship because it cost less—about $277 million.

If they had been able to build that ship with atomic engines the admirals say, they would already have had their fourth nuclear carrier and at half the current $1-billion estimate.

Faced with a balking Congress, the Navy has put its designers to work on a variety of ship innovations featuring relative simplicity and hoped-for lower cost.

These include a "sea-control ship" which would carry vertical and short-takeoff airplanes and cost about $100 million.

Because of a Navy blind spot the Russians are years ahead in ship-killing missiles.

Back in the 1950s and 1960s, when Russia's surface fleet was less than formidable, U.S. Navy leaders concentrated on arming their vessels to deal with the Soviet submarine and air threat.

The U.S. Navy woke to the potential of antiship missiles only after the 1967 sinking of an Israeli destroyer by a Soviet-made Styx missile fired by Egyptians.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Navy has been straining to catch up. So far, the Navy has only a temporary expedient ready to install until the Harpoon missile is ready, perhaps in about three years.

The Soviet and U.S. navies traditionally have differed in their composition because of their differing geography and naval strategy.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, outlined the contradicting U.S. and Soviet naval objectives this way:

"Because of our great dependence on overseas sources of raw materials and because of our strong ties to our overseas allies, we must insure our access to the seas in both peace and war. Consequently, U.S. Navy general purpose forces have been designed primarily to control the sea lines of communication and to project our seapower across the oceans."

"The Soviets, in contrast, are less dependent on overseas sources of supply and are less involved with overseas allies. Their long-term objective, apparently, is to weaken our ties with our overseas allies and prevent us from coming to their assistance in time of war."

"Accordingly, the Soviet Navys general purpose force has been designed primarily to disrupt our sea lanes of communication and obstruct the projection of our sea power."

Therefore, analysts say, the United States has built its naval striking power around aircraft carriers and has sought nuclear propulsion for surface ships so they can operate for longer periods in far distant areas of the globe.

The Russians, on the other hand, long have stressed attack submarines and surface warships armed with ship-killing missiles.

But in recent years the Russians have widened their naval operations to a virtually worldwide scale. This has led to construction of the first Soviet aircraft carrier, relatively small but suitable for vertical takeoff and landing planes.

Still unfinished, this carrier is expected to join the Soviet fleet within a few years.

Looking back, Adm. Zumwalt

has said that the Cuban missile crisis of 1962, "was very definitely a turning point in the development of the Soviet navy."

In that U.S.-Soviet confrontation nearly 10 years ago the Russians found their Navy had "very limited capabilities to conduct distant operations," Zumwalt said.

But that has changed. Most importantly, the Russians have broken out of geographical bottlenecks which once gave the United States a big advantage, when the Russian fleet was tied to home ports in the Baltic, Black and Japan seas.

The Russians also acquired rights to use ports and airfields in friendly countries in the Middle East, the Indian Ocean area and on the west coast of Africa.

The Soviet navy still suffers from a number of weaknesses, in the U.S. view. It lacks air cover in operating far from its homeland, and it has not yet acquired the ability to resupply the fleet on the open ocean.

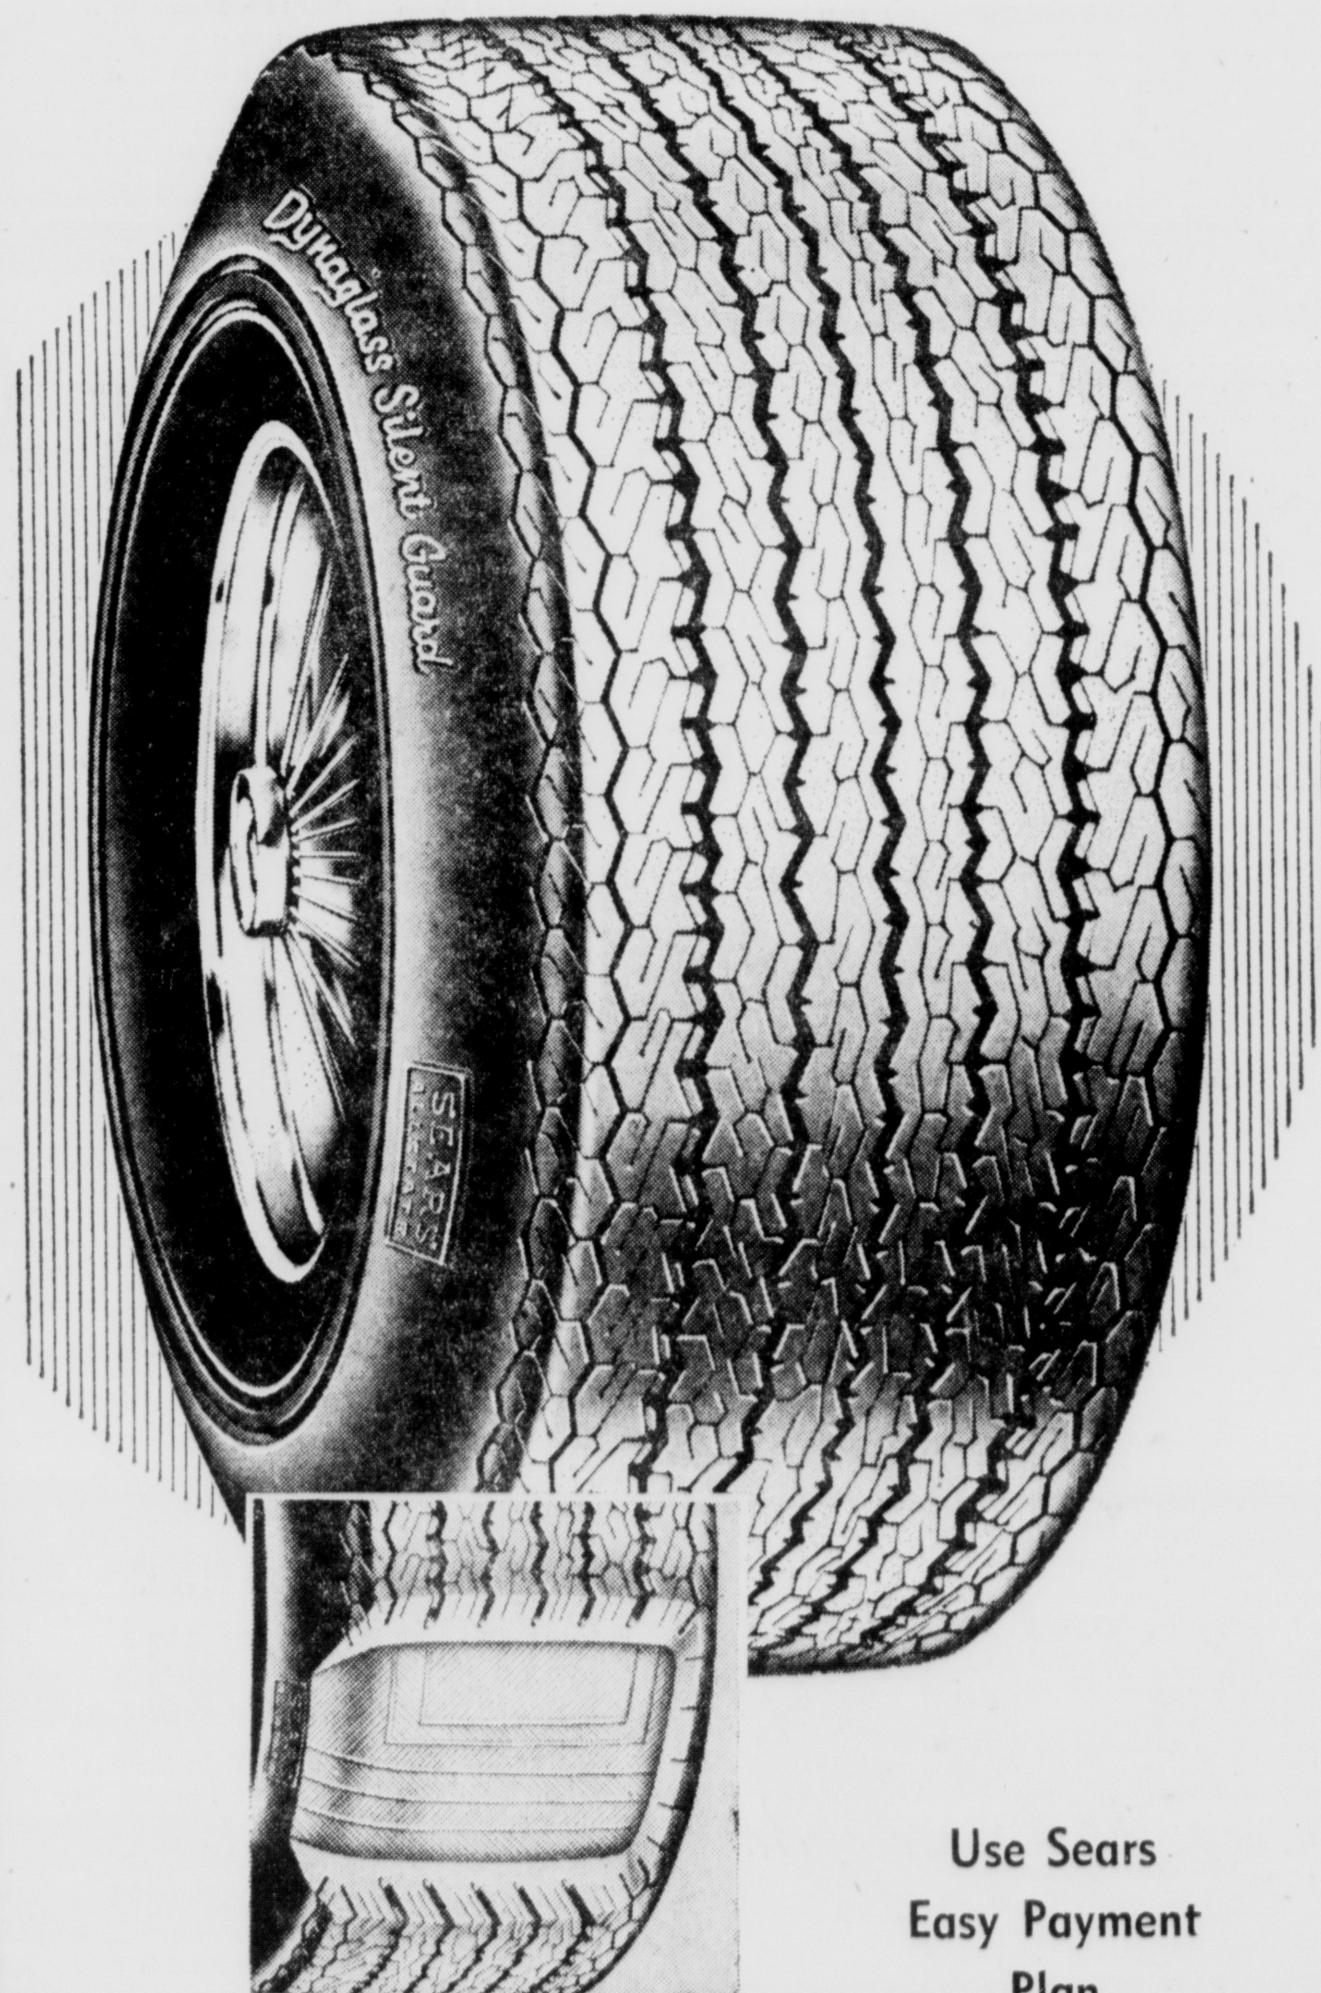

But these deficiencies may be overcome, or at least minimized, as the Russians gain more ports and airfield footholds around the world.

Next: A comparison of U.S.-Soviet missile strength.

That review is expected to be completed by the AEC this fall after an environmental hearing for which no date has been set.

The utilities have contended further delays in site preparation would delay opening of the proposed $330 million William Zimmer power station.

In allowing site preparation to continue, the AEC said it has found the principal environmental impact of such preparation already has occurred. Continuation of such activities, it said, would not cause significant additional impact on the environment.

More than 130,000 square miles, or about 53 per cent, of Alberta is forested.

Raymond V. B. Blackman,

editor of the authoritative British publication Jane's Fighting Ships, wrote last July that "the situation for the U.S. Navy is serious."

"By any standards, the Soviet fleet now represents the superpower of a superpower," Blackman said.

According to the latest U.S. Navy estimates, Russia is operating 568 major surface warships and submarines while the United States has 378 in its active fleet.

Both navies have been retiring older ships but the Russians are credited with building 89 new war vessels since 1967 while the United States was constructing 42.

This constructing gap has contributed to the U.S. Navy's obsolescence problem. Its ships average 16 years of age while the Soviet average is only nine years. Older ships generally are slower, their armament and other equipment less sophisticated.

During the past five years, the Russians have sent about 10 new classes of major surface combat ships and submarines to sea.

And the pace of Soviet naval modernization appears to be accelerating. This year alone, U.S. intelligence has spotted three new classes of Russian destroyer, frigate and cruiser.

Cost increases have hardened even hawkish senators and congressmen against the Navy's pleas for more shipbuilding money.

The price of a new destroyer is around $90 million. The bill for a new attack submarine adds up to about $220 million. The cost figures that really stagger Congress is the $1-billion estimate for a fourth nuclear-powered aircraft carrier.

In their defense, Navy admirals recall that they were appealing for modern ships years ago when prices were much lower but that the Pentagon's civilian leaders made them wait.

When he was secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara forced the Navy in the 1960s to accept a new oil-burning carrier instead of a nuclear-powered ship because it cost less—about $277 million.

If they had been able to build that ship with atomic engines the admirals say, they would already have had their fourth nuclear carrier and at half the current $1-billion estimate.

Faced with a balking Congress, the Navy has put its designers to work on a variety of ship innovations featuring relative simplicity and hoped-for lower cost.

These include a "sea-control ship" which would carry vertical and short-takeoff airplanes and cost about $100 million.

Because of a Navy blind spot the Russians are years ahead in ship-killing missiles.

Back in the 1950s and 1960s, when Russia's surface fleet was less than formidable, U.S. Navy leaders concentrated on arming their vessels to deal with the Soviet submarine and air threat.

The U.S. Navy woke to the potential of antiship missiles only after the 1967 sinking of an Israeli destroyer by a Soviet-made Styx missile fired by Egyptians.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Navy has been straining to catch up. So far, the Navy has only a temporary expedient ready to install until the Harpoon missile is ready, perhaps in about three years.

The Soviet and U.S. navies traditionally have differed in their composition because of their differing geography and naval strategy.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, outlined the contradicting U.S. and Soviet naval objectives this way:

"Because of our great dependence on overseas sources of raw materials and because of our strong ties to our overseas allies, we must insure our access to the seas in both peace and war. Consequently, U.S. Navy general purpose forces have been designed primarily to control the sea lines of communication and to project our seapower across the oceans."

"The Soviets, in contrast, are less dependent on overseas sources of supply and are less involved with overseas allies. Their long-term objective, apparently, is to weaken our ties with our overseas allies and prevent us from coming to their assistance in time of war."

"Accordingly, the Soviet Navy's general purpose force has been designed primarily to disrupt our sea lanes of communication and obstruct the projection of our sea power."

Therefore, analysts say, the United States has built its naval striking power around aircraft carriers and has sought nuclear propulsion for surface ships so they can operate for longer periods in far distant areas of the globe.

The Russians, on the other hand, long have stressed attack submarines and surface warships armed with ship-killing missiles.

But in recent years the Russians have widened their naval operations to a virtually worldwide scale. This has led to construction of the first Soviet aircraft carrier, relatively small but suitable for vertical takeoff and landing planes.

Still unfinished, this carrier is expected to join the Soviet fleet within a few years.

Looking back, Adm. Zumwalt

has said that the Cuban missile crisis of 1962, "was very definitely a turning point in the development of the Soviet navy."

In that U.S.-Soviet confrontation nearly 10 years ago the Russians found their Navy had "very limited capabilities to conduct distant operations," Zumwalt said.

But that has changed. Most importantly, the Russians have broken out of geographical bottlenecks which once gave the United States a big advantage, when the Russian fleet was tied to home ports in the Baltic, Black and Japan seas.

The Russians also acquired rights to use ports and airfields in friendly countries in the Middle East, the Indian Ocean area and on the west coast of Africa.

The Soviet navy still suffers from a number of weaknesses, in the U.S. view. It lacks air cover in operating far from its homeland, and it has not yet acquired the ability to resupply the fleet on the open ocean.

But these deficiencies may be overcome, or at least minimized, as the Russians gain more ports and airfield footholds around the world.

Singing Star Ray Price Doesn't Want 1 Style

By NANCY SHIPLEY
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Ray Price says he has run the musical gamut and, in the process, has "changed the style of country music twice."

But Price doesn't want to be known for a particular style he wants to be "just a singer."

"That's all I want to be," he said, "just a singer."

Price, a recording artist on Columbia for 21 years, said: "I was classified (as a country singer) once, and I had a tremendous struggle to get over that. It was one of the things I felt I had to do—for some unknown reason."

The gamut for the Texas native has ranged from country to pop to soloist with the Dallas Symphony. He was the No. 1 singer in the nation in 1956. And, a year later, his hit, "Crazy Arms," knocked Elvis Presley's "Heartbreak Hotel" off the top spot on the music charts.

Price, who still makes his home in Texas on a 200-acre thoroughbred-horse ranch, is associated with such hits as "For the Good Times," "Heartaches by the Number," "Make the World Go Away," "Danny Boy," "I'd Rather Be Sorry" and a host of others.

Price wants to be remembered, though, for two styles he says he brought about in country music.

"In 1956, I took the music of the day, rhythm and blues and country music, and made some changes by new chord progressions, raised the brass, lowered the steel and got started."

"In the country-music business, everybody began to use the style I came up with because it became the basic country style," he said.

"In 1957, I recorded the first big sound," he recalled. "I used the Nashville Symphony and the Anita Kerr Singers and recorded a faith album. That was the start of the big sound (in country music)."

Declaring, "I'm my own worst critic," Price said, "I think that any person who does any creative work at all, if he can't criticize his own work, then that means he's satisfied; and, if he's satisfied, he won't progress any further."

"I think I'm still going through a metamorphosis," he said, adding: "I really haven't changed that much in my way of thinking except to believe more firmly in what I'm doing."

Price, who originally planned to be a veterinarian, said he stays on his Texas ranch most of the time these days.

"One of my big dreams is to race good horses," he said. He had four at a race track in Chicago last week and hopes to have eight at the track by this fall.

There are two other things in the music field he said he'd really like to do: "Play the San Francisco Opera House . . . and record an album with the Boston Pops."

"But, outside that, I'd just like to be a good person that everybody likes and respects and to be treated like any other person."

"The picture of myself hasn't become clear yet," he mused. "I'm like everybody else, I'm still searching."

Federal Workers May Be Able To Enter Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-judge panel has cracked open the door to partisan politics by federal employees, but the workers have to wait for a Supreme Court ruling before they cross any campaign thresholds.

In the 2-1 ruling Monday, the panel held that provisions of the Hatch Act which ban partisan politics by federal workers are "impermissibly vague and over-broad," and violate the free-speech clause of the 1st Amendment.

And while the judges said the 2.7 million federal employees should be allowed to engage in partisan politics, they left open just what limits should exist. The court did not touch on the question of whether federal employees may seek elective office.

The court, composed of two federal district judges and an appeals court judge, ordered the U.S. Civil Service Commission to halt enforcement of the provisions. But the decision is being held in abeyance pending a review by the Supreme Court.

Apollo 15 Crew Firing Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronauts on the Apollo 15 moon flight were specifically warned against taking anything to the moon for commercial gain, according to the Washington Post today.

"We covered it all in a pilots' meeting. We made damned sure the 15 crew knew about it," Donald K. Slayton, chief of flight crew operations, was quoted as saying.

As a result, all three, David R. Scott, James B. Irwin and Alfred M. Worden have been, or will be, ejected from the astronaut corps for their role in taking souvenir stamped envelopes and a small statue on the Apollo 15 flight last year, the newspaper said.

About 100 envelopes eventually were sold by a West German stamp dealer for $150,000. The astronauts originally were to receive $21,000 but later decided against it.

When Slayton found out about the envelopes, a source told The Post, he "just called in the 15 crew and told them they were through. The next day they were taken off the Apollo 17 backup crew."

Slayton's warning was issued in person and in writing after he learned that the private Franklin Mint in Philadelphia reportedly profited from Medalion coins transported on the Apollo 14 moon flight in January, 1971.

DOUBLE WINNER — Jim Arledge drove Dinah Storm to wins in both heats of the second race at the Pickaway County Fair Tuesday. Owned by Harlow Arledge, the pacer had the fastest time of the day with a 2:07.3 clocking in the first heat.

Fast Times Posted In Fair Harness Racing Program

The Race program at the Pickaway County Fair Tuesday was outstanding, with the fastest heats of the day 2:07.3 for the pacers and 2:10.1 for the trotters.

Jim Arledge of Circleville drove Dinah Storm, owned by his brother Harlow Arledge, to wins in both heats of the second race to take the trophy blanket donated by Shaeffer Tire Company.

Dinah Storm led all the way in both heats, winning the first in 2:07.3 and the second in 2:09. The second race finishes were identical. Second in both heats was Circle Demon, Silver Tinkle was third, Zero W was fourth. Farvel Girl who finished a distant fifth in the first trip was scratched for the second.

The first division of the first race saw Hergell, owned by Tony Williams of Wilmington and driven by Jackie Johns, pacing to a 2:12.2 win in the first heat while Wave, owned by R. M. Johns and N. W. Hiatt and driven by Thaddeus McRae Jr., won the second heat and the trophy blanket presented by Tink's Tavern. Wave stood best in the summary because of its third place finish in the first heat while Hergell finished fourth in the second heat.

FINISHING second in both trips was Sue Reporter, owned by Royal and James Hamman of Williamsport and driven by Forrest Short, Circleville. In the first heat Sue Reporter lead the pacers to the quarter pole only to give up the lead to Hergell right after the quarter. Hergell led the rest of the way. Wave finished strong in the first heat to challenge Sue Reporter for second.

The first heat of the second division was an exciting finish with a "photo" for both first and third. Mr. Tiko came on in the stretch to beat Taho Tim by a nose at the wire while Edgewood Marge edged ahead of Mary Goose to finish third. Mr. Tiko is owned and driven by Andrew Vilar of North Fort Myers, Fla. Mr. Vilar is on his vacation and came north to drive at Ohio county fair events.

In the second heat, Mary Goose owned and driven by Jackie Johns led all the way, but won by only a nose in a crowd of four pacers at the finish. Taho Tim was again second. Mr. Tiko finished third but was placed fourth because of a lapped on break at the wire. Edgewood Marge finished fourth but was placed third. The time of the first heat was 2:10.2

McFadden Takes Honors At PCC

The winning team was No. 8 with 17½ points. Steve Brudzinski, Rudy Chelickovsky, Hal Whitfield, George Hamrick, Bill Fischer, Carl Heffelfinger, Everett Seeds, Charlie Hull and Ralph Hovemale comprised the winning team.

Team No. 6 is in first place with 87 points. No. 1 is second with 85½ and No. 4 has 82 points for third spot.

Herald Hawks Snap Elks Winning Mark

The Herald Hawks upset the Elks, 3-2, in a Major League tilt played at Ted Lewis Park Tuesday.

The victory broke a 14 game winning streak held by the Elks. The Elks finished their season 14-1 while the Hawks were 5-8.

and the second 2:15.2. The trophy blanket was presented to Mr. Tiko's owner by a representative of Lindsey Bakery.

The third race, a conditioned trot, saw Miss Little Libby owned by Jackie Newhart of Old Washington and driven by Richard Gustina, lead all the way in both heats. She went the first trip in 2:10.1 and the second in 2:11.1, good times for a trotter on a half mile track.

Second in both heats was Flinsier, owned by Norman and Donna Anderson and driven by Buck Weaver. Weaver, 19-years-old, was the youngest driver yesterday. The Logan Elm high school graduate had his horse break behind the starting gate in the first race, but moved up to challenge the winner in the stretch. Namath Signs Fat Contract But Stays Mum On Figure HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — If Joe Namath is the highest paid quarterback in pro football, he's not telling anyone—at least not the general public.

"No figures will be given. I don't think that's necessary," the New York Jets' quarterback told a press conference Tuesday after he signed a two-year contract with the National Football League team.

However, sources said the pact is worth $500,000—making the flamboyant Namath the highest paid player in pro football history.

Namath appeared at the conference with Jets' President Phil Iselin and Coach Weeb Ewbank and vowed to "continue playing as long as I am able to contribute to the team. Even if injured, I'd have another operation and then come back."

Hampered by injuries most of his pro career, Joe missed 19 Jets games in the past two seasons. In 1970 he was sidelined with a broken wrist and missed

Colbert's 5 Homers Give Padres Twinbill

By TOM EMORY

Associated Press Sports Writer
Nate Colbert performed at magic act in Atlanta Stadium but when it was all over, not even he believed it.

Colbert blasted his way into the record books Tuesday night with a slingshot baseball bat that hurled five home runs into the stands and drove in a record 13 runs during San Diego's sweep of a double-header against the Braves.

The five homers in the 9th and 11-7 Padres victories tied the mark of Stan Musial of St. Louis in 1954. The 13 RBI eclipsed the major league record of 11 shared by Cleveland's Earl Averill in 1930, Boston's Jim Tabor in 1939 and Baltimore's Boog Powell in 1966; and the National League standard of 10 by Enos Slaughter of St. Louis in 1947.

He also broke the NL record of 12 RBI in two straight games by Jim Bottomley of St. Louis in 1924, and Musial's mark of 21 total bases in a double-header.

Colbert, who now leads the major leagues with 30 homers and 82 RBI: hit a three-run homer and a solo shot in the first game as well as driving in a run with one of his two singles. Clay Kirby scattered seven hits in coasting to his shut-out victory.

In the second game, Colbert pounded a grand slam in the second, a two-run circuit in the seventh and his record-tying and breaking two-run homer in the ninth. The fifth homer came on a high inside fast ball from Cecil Upshaw, who Colbert said always got him out.

"I was shocked when I hit the fifth one," said Colbert. "I told the umpire at second (Bruce Froemming) 'I don't believe this.' He said 'I don't either.'"

The fair racing program was completed Tuesday. The races started promptly at 4 p.m. and were completed shortly after 6 p.m.

Cincinnati Reds Trip Houston For 3-1 Victory

HOUSTON (AP) — Cincinnati pitcher Wayne Simpson says he feels no extra pressure when he's pitching against the National League's second place team.

"I feel the same—you can't let up on any of them," he said Tuesday night after beating the Houston Astros 3-1.

Simpson scattered seven hits and was rarely in trouble as he notched his seventh victory against four losses and pitched his first complete game of the season.

Joe Morgan, a former Astro, slammed a two-run home run for the victory margin as the Reds who hiked their National League West lead to six games. It was the Reds' fifth straight victory in the Astrodome.

The only run allowed by Simpson was Jim Wynn's 18th homer.

The Reds scored once in the first inning and sent Houston starter Ken Forsch to the showers. Johnny Bench doubled in the run after walks to Pete Rose and Morgan.

Wynn tied the score in the fourth but Morgan's 13th home run in the fifth with Rose on base with a walk sent the Reds ahead to stay.

Houston managed to get runners as far as second only in two innings. After Wynn's homer, John Edwards and Doug Rader singled, but Simpson made Tommy Helms fly out to center. Cesar Cedeno singled in the eighth and reached second on a ground-out, but Simpson struck out Lee May to end the inning.

Cincinnati manager Sparky Anderson said it is good to have a six-game lead "but that could go in six games."

Observing that Simpson pitched his best game of the season, Anderson said, "He is a real competitive guy." He wants to go all the way.

He said the Astros would have had to score in the ninth for him to have taken Simpson out.

Morgan said his trade to Cincinnati "just put me on a better team."

"When you are ahead you just play better," he added. Morgan was at a loss to explain the Reds' success in the Astrodome.

"A good ball club just plays good on the road, I guess," he said.

Amorshine Winner At Scioto Downs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Amorshine led from wire-to-wire to win the featured race in Scioto Downs Tuesday night in a new lifetime mark of 2:05 2-5. He paid $4.80, $3 and $2.60. Espresso Diagonal returned $5 and $4 for second and Quaker Rodney $3.40 for show.

The 3-4 daily double combination of Patsy T. Victor and Flying Success was worth $237.904.

In other NL games, Cincinnati beat Houston 3-1, Montreal edged Chicago 3-2 in 10 innings, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-4 and San Francisco trimmed Los Angeles 4-3.

New York and Philadelphia split a doubleheader. The Mets won the opener 3-2 in 18 innings, while the Phils captured the second 4-1.

Cleon Jones drove in all the New York runs in the opening game of the twinbill. He hit a sacrifice fly and a homer in the first nine innings, then smashed a bases-loaded single in the 18th to beat the Phils. Don Money homered for Philadelphia.

In the second game, Bill Robinson hit a three-run double in the ninth and Steve Carlton won his 16th game for the Phils. Jones drove in the Mets single run in this contest.

Joe Morgan's two-run homer in the fifth broke a 1-1 tie for Cincinnati. Morgan, a former Astro, had walked in the first and scored the Reds' first run on Johnny Bench's double.

Manager Del Crandall yelled to Ferraro to take a big lead and the Tigers promptly picked him off as he made no attempt to avoid the tag.

Detroit Manager Billy Martin then pulled his anything-you-can-do-I-can-do better trick and brought Fred Scherman in to pitch.

Ellie Rodriguez lifted a pop fly into short right field and it dropped untouched as second baseman Dick McAuliffe and right fielder Jim Northrup stood and looked at each other.

Rodriguez ambled casually toward second, just aching to be tagged out, as the ball was relayed to shortstop Eddie Brinkman, who held the ball for a while and Rodriguez had no recourse but to step on second base with a gift double.

All that exertion on the mound filled Scherman's spikes with mud and he slowly started to clean them. That's when Umont went into action.

With raindrops still falling on everyone's heads, he called Martin and Crandall out and told them he'd recommend a $1,000 fine to American League President Joe Cronin if any more foolishness took place.

Skip Lockwood then fled out to end the inning and the Tigers were retired in order in their half, making it an official game. One inning later, the game was called.

The Tigers managed only one hit off Lockwood. Mickey Stanley's leadoff double in the sixth, Milwaukee drove rookie Bill Slayback from the mound in the first inning, scoring two runs on four hits. The Brewers scored four times in the fourth on Joe Lahoud's two-run homer and a two-run single by Dave May.

Cleveland's Perry tied Detroit's Mickey Lolich as the only pitchers in the majors with 18 victories and got all the offense he needed when Buddy Bell smacked a two-run homer off Baltimore's Dave McNally in the second inning.

New York's Mel Stottlemyre and Boston's Sonny Siebert battled through five scoreless innings before Roy White singled in the Yankees' first run and King Storm, third at the top of the stretch, finished strong to win the featured ninth race, at Latonia Race Course Tuesday night by half a length.

Chefs Subdue 3rd National

Burger Chef won their last game of the season defeating Third National Bank, 10-5, in the Pony League tilt at Ted Lewis Park Tuesday evening.

Jeff Funk fired the win for Burger Chef, giving up four hits, striking out nine and walking nine.

Funk slugged a triple for the winners while Bill Mogan smacked a pair of singles in his first game since his injury. Dave Phillips hit two singles, Randy Speakman and Tom Scherer both singled.

Jerry Strawser threw off the hill for the Bankers giving up seven hits, walking eight and fanning 14.

Brett Christy paced Third National with a triple. Jerry Strawser rapped a double and a single and Dennis Strawser singled.

Both Third National and Burger finished with season records of 3-8.

Circleville Women Cop Softball Tilt

The newly formed Circleville Women's Slow Pitch softball team posted their second win in three outings with a 14-9 decision over the Columbus B.F. Bolin squad.

Jo Green led the winners with a three-run homer while Sue McGuire, Jody Steele and Mary Beth Rhoads each added two hits to the attack.

Houston's run came in the fourth on Jimmy Wynn's 18th homer.

Tim Felt stroked a game-winning sacrifice fly in the 10th inning as Montreal beat the Cubs. Expo starter Bill Stoneman and Cub starter Burt Hooton each singled in a run for their teams but neither was involved in the decision.

St. Louis scored six runs in the fifth against Pittsburgh, including two driven in by former Pirate Matty Alou, who doubled. The Cards belted Pirate

A's scored in the third on Sal Bando's two-run single off Paul Splittorff and Reggie Jackson hammered a two-run 435-foot homer in the fifth, his 21st.

Minnesota's Dick Woodson hurled a three-hitter against Texas for his first major league shutout. Danny Thompson socked a two-run triple for the Twins in the third inning and Bobby Darwin walloped his 14th homer in the fourth.

They added five more in the seventh and Bobby Murcer crashed a three-run homer in the eighth.

Stottlemyre blanked the Red Sox until the ninth, when they erupted for four runs on six hits before Fred Beene came on to get the final out.

Oakland's Ken Holtzman stopped Kansas City on three hits for his 14th triumph. The then stole home for a 2-0 lead. They added five more in the seventh and Bobby Murcer crashed a three-run homer in the eighth.

The 3-4 daily double combination of Patsy T. Victor and Flying Success was worth $237.90.

a bases-loaded single in the 18th to beat the Phillies. Don Money homered for Philadelphia.

In the second game, Bill Robinson hit a three-run double in the ninth and Steve Carlton won his 16th game for the Phils. Jones drove in the Mets single run in this contest.

Joe Morgan's two-run homer in the fifth broke a 1-1 tie for Cincinnati. Morgan, a former Astro, had walked in the first and scored the Reds' first run on Johnny Bench's double.

Houston's run came in the fourth on Jimmy Wynn's 18th homer.

Tim Foli stroked a game-winning sacrifice fly in the 10th inning as Montreal beat the Cubs. Expo starter Bill Stoneman and Cub starter Burt Hooton each singled in a run for their teams but neither was involved in the decision.

St. Louis scored six runs in the fifth against Pittsburgh, including two driven in by former Pirate Matty Alou, who doubled. The Cards belted Pirate pitchers for 14 hits, while Al Santorini, 5-7, controlled Pittsburgh, including retiring 16 batters in a row at one stretch.

Ken Henderson's eighth-inning sacrifice fly drove in the winning San Francisco run. Tito Fuentes raced home from third as Los Angeles second baseman Lee Lacy caught the looping pop running toward the outfield. Bernie Williams earlier had contributed a two-run pinch homer for the Giants.

Wes Parker drove in two runs for the Dodgers.

Tigers Stall Fails; Brewers Win

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers finally got to come out of the rain Tuesday night after umpire Frank Umont put a damper on their stalling tactics.

After a 51-minute rain delay in the middle of the third inning with the Milwaukee Brewers leading 2-0, the teams resumed play. The rain resumed, too, in the fourth inning as the Tigers fell farther behind en route to a six-inning 9-0 setback.

Despite the defeat, the Tigers remained 2½ games ahead of Baltimore in the AL East when Cleveland's Gaylord Perry blanked the Orioles 2-0 on two singles. Elsewhere, the New York Yankees battered Boston 10-4. Oakland shut out Kansas City 4-0 and Minnesota blanked Texas 3-0. California and Chicago were rained out.

The Tigers' run started in the top of the fifth with Mike Ferraro on first base and one out and the contest five outs away from becoming official. Relief pitcher John Hiller threw to first several times with Ferraro standing on the bag.

Manager Del Crandall yelled to Ferraro to take a big lead and the Tigers promptly picked him off as he made no attempt to avoid the tag.

Detroit Manager Billy Martin then pulled his anything-you-can-do-I-can-do better trick and brought Fred Scherman in to pitch.

Ellie Rodriguez lifted a pop fly into short right field and it dropped untouched as second baseman Dick McAuliffe and right fielder Jim Northrup stood and looked at each other.

Rodriguez ambled casually toward second, just aching to be tagged out, as the ball was relayed to shortstop Eddie Brinkman, who held the ball for a while and Rodriguez had no recourse but to step on second base with a gift double.

All that exertion on the mound filled Scherman's spikes with mud and he slowly started to clean them. That's when Umont went into action.

With raindrops still falling on everyone's heads, he called Martin and Crandall out and told them he'd recommend a $1,000 fine to American League President Joe Cronin if any more foolishness took place.

Skip Lockwood then fled out to end the inning and the Tigers were retired in order in their half, making it an official game. One inning later, the game was called.

The Tigers managed only one hit off Lockwood. Mickey Stanley's leadoff double in the sixth, Milwaukee drove rookie Bill Slayback from the mound in the first inning, scoring two runs on four hits. The Brewers scored four times in the fourth on Joe Lahoud's two-run homer and a two-run single by Dave May.

Cleveland's Perry tied Detroit's Mickey Lolich as the only pitchers in the majors with 18 victories and got all the offense he needed when Buddy Bell smacked a two-run homer off Baltimore's Dave McNally in the second inning.

New York's Mel Stottlemyre and Boston's Sonny Siebert battled through five scoreless innings before Roy White singled in the Yankees' first run and then stole home for a 2-0 lead. They added five more in the seventh and Bobby Murcer crashed a three-run homer in the eighth.

Stottlemyre blanked the Red Sox until the ninth, when they erupted for four runs on six hits before Fred Beene came on to get the final out.

Oakland's Ken Holtzman stopped Kansas City on three hits for his 14th triumph. The A's scored in the third on Sal Bando's two-run single off Paul Splittorff and Reggie Jackson hammered a two-run 435-foot homer in the fifth, his 21st.

Minnesota's Dick Woodson hurled a three-bitter against Texas for his first major league shutout. Danny Thompson socked a two-run triple for the Twins in the third inning and Bobby Darwin walloped his 14th homer in the fourth.

Nicklaus PGA Co-Favorite Despite Underdog Claims

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Sore finger or not, Jack Nicklaus was, at worst, a co-favorite with Lee Trevino for the title in the PGA National Championship.

But Nicklaus, almost always the favorite for any tournament in which he competes, was revealing in the role of what he called "distinct underdog" going into the Thursday start of the last of the four major championships of the year.

The 32-year-old Nicklaus won the first two, the Masters and U.S. Open, and failed by a single stroke to keep alive his dreams of the never-accomplished Grand Slam when he lost to Trevino's miracle finish in the British Open.

A badly infected right index finger, which required some minor surgery last week, has kept him out of action—and away from practice—since then.

"I really can't recall when I've been so poorly prepared for any major championship," Nicklaus said Tuesday after putting in only his second practice round on the 7,054-yard, par-70 Oakland Hills Country Club course.

He said he was "somewhere around par" in two sessions he has in on the rolling, beautifully conditioned layout in the Detroit suburbs.

But he continues to insist his lack of practice makes him less than the favorite. If he isn't then Trevino is.

"He had the easiest 65 I've ever seen in my life," said veteran Ken Still, who played one round with Trevino. "I've never in my life seen a man knock the flag down every time he drew the club back, Lee did."

Trevino, listening, just grinned.

"Yeah, I'm hitting it pretty good now. Pretty damn good," he said.

Just behind those two are Gary Player of South Africa and still hopeful Arnold Palmer.

Palmer, now 42 and still seeking his first victory of the season, would like nothing better than to annex this one, the only major title that has eluded him.

Greg Cook Won't Play This Season

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Chances are "highly unlikely" that quarterback Greg Cook will be able to play this year following two seasons on the sidelines with an arm injury, a physical training specialist says.

Arthur Jones, who is directing the rehabilitation program of the Cincinnati Bengals stand-out rookie of 1969, said Tuesday, "I think he will be back next year, I really do."

Jones and Cook flew here Tuesday from Deland, Fla., where Jones' company produces weight machines. Cook is participating in the program in Florida.

"The Bengals believe strongly enough in what we're doing for Greg that they're willing to spend any amount of money on the program," Jones said.

Cook originally injured the shoulder in the throwing arm in a game against the Kansas City Chiefs early in 1969. He returned later in the season, then reinjured the shoulder in the off-season.

Cook has undergone operations since then, but has not been pronounced ready to play.

When asked if Cook was making progress, Jones first said, "It is impossible to say."

He added, "Greg's attitude is marvelous. I couldn't ask for more, and a good attitude is what is a prerequisite for what he's doing."

Demonstrating with his arm, Jones said Cook cannot pull the arm and shoulder back as far as necessary for throwing the ball properly.

Ken Avery, Parrish Back With Bengals

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Injured linebacker Ken Avery and cornerback Lemar Parrish are back in uniform at the Cincinnati Bengals training camp.

Avery had been out with a bruised leg muscle and Parrish had been sidelined with a sprained ankle. Parrish was still limping when he suited up for drills Tuesday.

During a routine passing drill Tuesday, rookie linebacker Jim LeClair broke through blockers and accidentally locked his arm in behind the throwing arm of quarterback Ken Anderson.

Anderson's arm was jerked back and the football fell away. A hush fell over the field with about 350 spectators nearby, but Anderson was not hurt.

The Bengals announced that they have cut wide receiver John Wiegmann, their 16th-round draft selection this year from Cal Poly-Pomona.

Nick Skorich Keeps Same Grid Attitude

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns may look like a different team because of retirements by veterans, but head coach Nick Skorich hasn't changed one iota.

Skorich puts his pre-season squad of 60 players on an airplane this afternoon for a trip to Los Angeles and an exhibition game Friday night against the Rams.

What does Skorich want most against the Rams? An impressive performance by quarterback Mike Phipps, perhaps, or outstanding efforts by rookies?

"The winning attitude is still the main thing," said Skorich, echoing his thoughts of 1971 that exhibition games should not be lost.

Namath . . . Scioto Results

most of last season after re-injuring his left knee when he missed a tackle in the Jets first exhibition game.

Namath has said recently he would participate in training camp routines but would not play in exhibition or regular games without a pact. He said he should be paid more than any other quarterback because "I can play better than anyone else."

Asked if the terms of the new agreement fulfilled his wish, Namath replied, "I don't know. I've never seen anybody else's contract."

Elsewhere in pro football, the Cleveland Browns acquired defensive tackle Jerry Rush from Detroit for a future draft choice and the Baltimore Colts dealt safety Tom Curtis to Los Angeles for an undisclosed draft pick.

Philadelphia swapped linebacker Tim Rosovich to San Diego for the Chargers' 1973 first-round draft choice and sent guard Dick Hart to the Jets for an undisclosed future draft choice. Pittsburgh traded tackle Clarence Washington to Chicago for an unannounced draft pick.

Houston dealt tackle Gene Ferguson to Oakland for wide receiver Rod Sherman while the Raiders made a host of transactions which included sending linebacker Duane Benson to Atlanta for a future draft choice. Oakland also received wide receiver Gloster Richardson from Dallas, running back Jeff Queen from San Diego, quarterback Don Milan from Kansas City and defensive end Otis Sistrunk from Los Angeles, all for future draft selections.

Perry, Tribe Top Orioles; Win Tilt 2-0

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — You don't need a cannon to stop Gaylord Perry—just astroturf, the Cleveland Indians' ace right-hander admitted after winning his 18th game Tuesday night.

"I'm a low ball pitcher," explained Perry after stopping the Baltimore Orioles 2-0 on a two-hitter. "The astroturf in the National League hurts all the pitchers. They don't have it over here."

Perry, who made two fielding gems to help his own cause, said the hard grounders go for hits on artificial surfaces. "We don't have a chance any more for them," he said.

He said he didn't think the umpires were allowing him lower strikes than in the National League and didn't think there was that much difference in the hitters in the two leagues, outside of Pittsburgh, which he ranked the best hitting club in baseball.

Perry toiled for eight years for the hard-hitting San Francisco Giants in the National League. The best he could muster was 23-13 in 1970 and 21-8 in 1966. Last year he was 16-12.

Now, with the Indians, a team with a .231 batting average that has trouble finding home plate without a road map, he has posted an 18-8 record with six one-run losses.

With him, the Indians have a record of 43-52 and respectability. They are only 12 games out of first place in the East Division.

Nicklaus PGA Co-Favorite Despite Underdog Claims

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Sore finger or not, Jack Nicklaus was, at worst, a co-favorite with Lee Trevino for the title in the PGA National Championship.

But Nicklaus, almost always the favorite for any tournament in which he competes, was revealing in the role of what he called "distinct underdog" going into the Thursday start of the last of the four major championships of the year.

The 32-year-old Nicklaus won the first two, the Masters and U.S. Open, and failed by a single stroke to keep alive his dreams of the never-accomplished Grand Slam when he lost to Trevino's miracle finish in the British Open.

A badly infected right index finger, which required some minor surgery last week, has kept him out of action—and away from practice—since then.

"I really can't recall when I've been so poorly prepared for any major championship," Nicklaus said Tuesday after putting in only his second practice round on the 7,054-yard, par-70 Oakland Hills Country Club course.

He said he was "somewhere around par" in two sessions he has in on the rolling, beautifully conditioned layout in the Detroit suburbs.

But he continues to insist his lack of practice makes him less than the favorite. If he isn't then Trevino is.

"He had the easiest 65 I've ever seen in my life," said veteran Ken Still, who played one round with Trevino. "I've never in my life seen a man knock the flag down every time he drew the club back, Lee did."

Trevino, listening, just grinned.

"Yeah, I'm hitting it pretty good now. Pretty damn good," he said.

Just behind those two are Gary Player of South Africa and still hopeful Arnold Palmer.

Palmer, now 42 and still seeking his first victory of the season, would like nothing better than to annex this one, the only major title that has eluded him.

Greg Cook Won't Play This Season

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Chances are "highly unlikely" that quarterback Greg Cook will be able to play this year following two seasons on the sidelines with an arm injury, a physical training specialist says.

Arthur Jones, who is directing the rehabilitation program of the Cincinnati Bengals stand-out rookie of 1969, said Tuesday, "I think he will be back next year, I really do."

Jones and Cook flew here Tuesday from Deland, Fla., where Jones' company produces weight machines. Cook is participating in the program in Florida.

"The Bengals believe strongly enough in what we're doing for Greg that they're willing to spend any amount of money on the program," Jones said.

He added, "Greg's attitude is marvelous. I couldn't ask for more, and a good attitude is what is a prerequisite for what he's doing."

Demonstrating with his arm, Jones said Cook cannot pull the arm and shoulder back as far as necessary for throwing the ball properly.

12 On Ohio's Death Row Win Reduced Sentences

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twelve Ohio Penitentiary inmates who appealed their death sentences to the U.S. Supreme Court were notified Tuesday that the sentences had been reduced to life imprisonment.

Meanwhile, state Atty. Gen. William Brown sought a state Supreme Court ruling to clarify the status of 13 other prisoners sentenced to death whose appeals have been exhausted.

A spokesman said Brown took the action in light of the U. S. Supreme Court decision holding capital punishment "cruel and unusual punishment" except under special circumstances.

Of the 13 men in the Brown action, 11 are on death row at the penitentiary, and two are at Lima State Hospital. They include:

William Banks, Richard Jemison, and Howard Cliff, all of Franklin County; William Bradley, Cuyahoga; William Wallen, Stark; Alto Patterson, Summit; William Q. Sidle, Licking; James and Edward Wilson, Hamilton; William Garner, Hamilton; John Ewens, Lucas; Rel Blankenship, Gallia and James Melak, Summit.

U. S. Supreme Court reductions of sentence received Tuesday involved:

Eugene Duling, Franklin; Kenneth White, Cuyahoga; Lester Eubanks, Richland; Postel Laskey Jr., Hamilton; James G. Bryson, Montgomery; Thomas Carter, Lucas; Terry Staten, Wood; Walter Elliot, Stark; Raymond Eaton, Hamilton; Alan C. Young, Cuyahoga; Celtus Moorehead, Montgomery and Raymond Kassov, Hamilton.

Earlier the U. S. Supreme Court reduced the sentence of Samuel Edgell of Nobel County. Two weeks ago the Ohio Supreme Court mandated life terms for Richard Lee Tingle, Franklin; John Leigh and Waterson Johnson, Hamilton; and Wayne Flannery, Cuyahoga.

Scattered Irish Outbreaks Mostly Noise, Little Effect

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A flurry of bombing and gunfire erupted at five points in Northern Ireland Tuesday night, but the British Army described it as "a lot of noise with, luckily, not much effect."

The troops claimed they hit one of two gunmen firing at them in the Catholic Old Park district of Belfast, and other soldiers fought a running battle in the Catholic Unity Flats area.

An explosion damaged a bottling plant in Londonderry. Five men blew up a garage at Killycolpy after raiding the neighboring post office for its petty cash. A 150-pound army mine blew up two army scout cars near the border village of Rosslea.

There was speculation that the gunmen of the Irish Republican Army were edging back into the fray after lying low when the British army invaded the barricaded Catholic districts of Londonderry and Belfast on Monday.

The army said it found 500 pounds of gelignite packed into a 40-gallon drum on the edge of the Creggan, one of the IRA strongholds in Londonderry which the troops opened up. An army spokesman said the explosive would have demolished everything within 150 yards had it been set off.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Jack Lynch of the Irish Republic discussed the Ulster situation and a fresh political initiative for a truce. Lynch was reported anxious to have the Catholic politicians take part in talks with Britain's administrator for Northern Ireland, William Whitelaw, as soon as possible.

Federal

The Highway Act of 1972 extends the contract deadline to 1977, Richley explains. He estimates it then will take another two to two and one-half years to complete construction.

The states might move faster than this, the director says, except for holdups in payments from the Federal Highway Trust Fund. It pays 90 per cent of the interstate highway costs and an average of 75 per cent of other national highway costs incurred by the states.

"These have dwindled in recent years to a present low of about $141 million," Richley said, comparing that total to a high of about $270 million in 1968.

The director said there are "two reasons" why the Nixon administration has put the brakes on the big Federal Highway Trust Fund.

The first reason, he said, is the administration's stated purpose to put a check on the economy and to curb inflation. "But the real reason," he asserted, "is the administration's use of the Highway Trust fund as a prop against the federal budget deficit. Without it, the Washington red would look a lot redder."

Richley said the Office of the Budget has placed "severe restrictions" on spending from the fund even though Congress has appropriated the money.

Ohio hasn't lost out yet on any of the federal funds available under the 90-10 matching formula for the interstate highway program. It could happen though, Richley said, as a result of increasing demands on the Highway Department's shrinking budget and the fact that the interstate system "no longer has the priority it once had."

Richley said he foresees an inevitable re-evaluation of Ohio's transportation problems with the creation Sept. 29 of the new Ohio Department of Transportation. "It won't have much muscle at first, but it will give us a way to begin co-ordinating our future transportation programs," the director said.

12 On Ohio's Death Row Win Reduced Sentences

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twelve Ohio Penitentiary inmates who appealed their death sentences to the U.S. Supreme Court were notified Tuesday that the sentences had been reduced to life imprisonment.

Meanwhile, state Atty. Gen. William Brown sought a state Supreme Court ruling to clarify the status of 13 other prisoners sentenced to death whose appeals have been exhausted.

A spokesman said Brown took the action in light of the U. S. Supreme Court decision holding capital punishment "cruel and unusual punishment" except under special circumstances.

Of the 13 men in the Brown action, 11 are on death row at the penitentiary, and two are at Lima State Hospital. They include:

William Banks, Richard Jemison, and Howard Cliff, all of Franklin County; William Bradley, Cuyahoga; William Wallen, Stark; Alto Patterson, Summit; William Q. Sidle, Licking; James and Edward Wilson, Hamilton; William Garner, Hamilton; John Bowens, Lucas; Rell Blankenship, Galia and James Melak, Summit.

U. S. Supreme Court reductions of sentence received Tuesday involved:

Eugene Duling, Franklin; Kenneth White, Cuyahoga; Lester Eubanks, Richland; Postel Laskey Jr., Hamilton; James

G. Bryson, Montgomery; Thomas Carter, Lucas; Terry Staten, Wood; Walter Elliot, Stark; Raymond Eaton, Hamilton; Alan C. Young, Cuyahoga; Celtus Moorehead, Montgomery and Raymond Kassow, Hamilton.

Earlier the U. S. Supreme Court reduced the sentence of Samuel Edgell of Nobel County. Two weeks ago the Ohio Supreme Court mandated life terms for Richard Lee Tingle, Franklin; John Leigh and Waterson Johnson, Hamilton; and Wayne Flannory, Cuyahoga.
